'Cookery' Holds Fond Memories For Berks Outstanding Farm Family

ANDY ANDREWS

READING (Berks Co.) — Walter and Linda Ernst have fond memories of the Reading Fair when it was located at the Fairgrounds Mall north of the city.

They remember the taste of homemade ham sandwiches, lamb kebab, and the wonderful aroma of fresh-baked apple dumplings coming from what is affectionately known as the "Cookery."

The Cookery, a tent featuring the homemade treats of the nearby Grange families, is long gone. So is the location at the Fairgrounds Mall, site of a department store. The Reading Fair now, temporarily at least, is located at the Kutztown Fairgrounds until permits are granted to build the new Reading Fair pole barn near the Berks County Ag Center, Leesport.

Despite all that, the Ernst family still helps out where they can with the youth shows at the Reading Fair, still the site of some of the area's best home-cooked meals at several Grange buildings (including Virginville and Kutztown) at the Kutztown Fairgrounds.

For decades of service to the fair, the Ernst family — including Walter D., Linda, and their children David, Valerie, and Steven and their children — were honored Wednesday evening as the Berks County Agricultural and Horticultural Association (Reading Fair) Farm Family of the Year at the Fleetwood Grange Hall in Fleetwood.

Walter and Linda Ernst rent land from Walter's father, Walter H. Ernst, and operate 12 greenhouses on about four acres south of Reading. This year the greenhouses are home to about 24,000 poinsettias for the upcoming holiday season encompassing about 28,000 square feet, noted Ernst.

Walter D.'s pride and joy are the ready-for-show purebred Suffolk sheep, including about 20 ewes and four rams, boarded at the site. Walter raises lambs for sale to youth at several regional shows. Walter himself has shown at the Schuylkill County Fair (Walter sold one sheep to Kori Morgan at the fair, a purebred Suffolk that was named champion, he noted.) Walter himself has shown offspring of his herd and the herdstock itself at Kimberton, Goshen, Schuylkill, and Allentown fairs.

But most times the greenhouse growing business for wholesale to

FLEETWOOD (Berks Co.) — Large problems will always loom before us, but they have and will continue to be solved by good men and women, said Secretary of Agriculture Samuel Hayes Jr.

Some of these good men and women who are building a strong agricultural base that in turn builds a strong America were lauded at the Berks County Outstanding Farm Family Awards Banquet, Wednesday night.

Held at the Fleetwood Grange Hall, the 42nd annual banquet was a gathering of those who work together to make The Reading Fair a successful attraction to both the agricultural and the non-farming community.

Each year a farm family is named Outstanding Farm Family of the Year. Qualifications require that the family must be Grange members and earn at least 85 percent of income from the farm. Scoring is based on Grange participation, other farm organization participation, civic and community involvement, and the farm operation records.

This year, for the first time ever, the farm family selected was not the traditional dairy or crop farmer. Instead, Walter and Linda Ernst who operate a horticulture business were named as the outstanding family for their dedication in helping at the fair. (See Ernst feature story on page A1).

After accepting the award, Linda said that some in attendance

PAADS Exhibitors First To Use New Tie-Stalls

HARRISBURG (Dauphin Co.) — The state Farm Show Complex in Harrisburg is continuing to be improved and its latest improvement is expected to especially please those who exhibit livestock and depend on tie-stalls.

About 350 letters were to have been mailed out Friday to those who registered to exhibit animals at the 35th annual Pennsylvania All-American Dairy Show (Sept. 21-24) to inform them that they are to be the first to use a new system of livestock stalls in the state Farm Show Complex.

According to Dennis Grumbine, Farm Show director, and state Secretary of Agriculture Samuel Hayes Jr., many of the approximately 1,800 pieces of stalls are to be assembled, and set up in the Farm Show Complex in time to be used by exhibitors at the annual PAADS.

It is the first time the Farm Show Complex has received new stalls,

CATTLE: Compared to Tuesday's light test, slaughter steers and heifers sold mostly steady. Trade was active for the well-rounded offering with some spots of strength on the fancier end and some pressure on the plainer cattle. The slaughter cow market started off slow but recovered by the end of the large supply, with prices ranging steady to 1.00 lower. Slaughter bulls traded 1.00- 1.50 lower. Supply included 38 percent slaughter steers and 38 percent cows.

National Egg Market

Atlanta, Ga.

AT A GLANCE:

Brown extra-large and large prices were unchanged to higher in the New England area, mediums were unchanged to lower in the Northeast and parts of the Midwest and Southeast, and all other prices were unchanged. The market tone was fully steady to firm for brown eggs, barely steady to weak for mediums and steady on the balance. Demand was light to good, mostly moderate, and better where featured. Supplies of jumbo, extra large, and brown eggs were tight to in close balance, mediums were fully adequate, and adequate on other sizes. Breaking stock supplies were adequate with demand light for any additional offerings. Spent fowl availability was sufficient for desired slaughter schedules.

Daily National Grain Summary

St. Joseph, MO
Thu Sep 10, 1998
USDA-MO Dept Ag Market News

Grain and soybean bids climbed higher as traders position themselves ahead of tomorrow's USDA Crop Production report. Good export sales this week for all commodities also offered support to bids. Wheat 1 to 4 cents higher. Corn 1 to 4 cents higher. Sorghum 1 to 4 cents higher. Soybeans 3 to 8 cents higher. Wheat bids gained strength on good overnight export business and traders anticipation of Friday's Crop Production report from the USDA. Egypt bought a substantial amount of soft white wheat overnight and a total tonnage of over 700,000 this week with South Korea, Japan and Mexico big buyers. Corn and soybean bids were sharply higher today as short coverings were taken before tomorrow's crop production report. Corn exports were very good this week and indications China has bought US beans was an added boost to bids. However, continued good crop conditions and cheap feed alternatives around the world, limited gains.

The OLD FARMER'S THIS WEEK WITH ALMANAC

SUCTION CLEANER

On September 19, 1876, Melville R Bissell received a patent on a carpet sweeper, a device that revolutionized housecleaning and nearly (but not quite!) put an end to the rigorous rug beatings of former days At first, the Bissell sweepers were used primarily in big hotels and other sizable institutions. In 1901, an English inventor named H Cecil Booth patented a suction cleaner (now recognized as the vacuum cleaner), an improvement on the Bissell carpet sweepers, which required two people to handle them because of their enormous size and weight

The Rose Bowl is the only bowl I've seen that I didn't have to clean.

– Erma Bombeck

TIP OF THE WEEK

☞ A drop of lemon juice or lavender oil in your vacuum cleaner bag will leave a nice scent in the house.

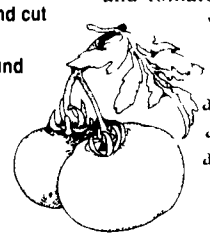
GOAT CHEESE & GREENS

- 4 cups mixed salad greens
- 1 medium red onion, peeled and sliced
- 4 ounces fresh goat cheese, crumbled
- 2 tomatoes, cored and cut into wedges
- salt and freshly ground pepper, to taste
- croutons
- balsamic vinaigrette

Rinse salad greens, pat dry, and place into a large salad bowl Add the red onion, goat cheese, and tomatoes, and season with salt and pepper When ready to serve, add the croutons and vinaigrette, and toss well



Makes 6 to 8 servings.

The OLD FARMER'S WEATHER PROVERBS

When the Moon is visible in the daytime, the days are relatively cool.

Houseflies coming into the house in great numbers indicate rain.

Early frosts are generally followed by a long, hard winter.

Friday is the best or worst day of the week.

The Hill family was ready to pay cash for a new 80,000 square foot storage facility for Tull Hill Farms They changed their mind when Telmark explained how much they could save by leasing the facility instead Their sharp management decision saved profits by adding to the bottom line with a Telmark operating lease They also have a buyout option at the end of the lease term

The Hill family found the tax breaks end-of-term buyout option, and flexible payment plan so attractive, they leased the complete facility Most lenders aren't ready to offer this kind of alternative financing

OPINION

Political Candidate Confuses Family Farming Issues

Perhaps because of Gov. Tom Ridge's popularity, not many people even discuss that there is an election this year, or that there are contenders for his job.

But there are, and watch out. Some of the distorted muck that has been raised lately by at least one of his want-to-be contenders is doing a 'great disservice to all of agriculture.

For those within the production agricultural community, especially animal agriculture, the ongoing internal debate of what defines a "family farm" versus a "corporate farm" has become an issue for external debate, and those debating it haven't a clue what they are talking about.

Recently a want-to-be gubernatorial candidate mailed out a package of information soliciting support from "family farmers." The package included an article written by the candidate that contained ridiculous statements and plenty of misstatements about the hog industry and manure management.

Apparently, the candidate, or the campaign handlers and consultants, considered that there is a groundswell of opposition by rank-and-file livestock producers to contract production agriculture, or "integrated" agriculture, and that these people could be convinced that Gov. Tom Ridge and his Administration are bad guys attempting to help destroy the "family farm."

A number of farmers who received the mailing however, considered the anti-integrated swine industry political campaign literature a joke, especially those who contract-raise poultry.

The outrageousness of the mailing apparently even caused some of the farmers to get together in opposition to that candidate.

But the real issue of concern is the agricultural community's lack of control over who gets to serve as its spokesperson.

This candidate in no way speaks for the agricultural community on this or any other issue. But the non-farmers don't know that.

The non-farmers who are new to the issue or have little accurate information can and probably will perpetuate the candidate's misleading statements that "family farmers" don't want contract production to exist in this state.

Perhaps it is time that an accurate definition of a "family farm" is forwarded to the general public.

As a suggestion, we offer that a "family farm" is any farming operation that supports a family, whether it be raising mink, cows, sheep, goats, fish, rabbits, beef, or horticultural products.

If an agricultural operation can keep a family together, if it helps them to be strong and healthy, provides them with the opportunity to live and work together as a family, and to understand and feel the interaction between themselves and Creation, then it is a family farm.

No matter for what office the political candidate seeks.

Now Is The Time

By John Schwartz

Lancaster County Agricultural Agent

To Prepare For Small Grain Seeding

According to Robert Anderson, Lancaster County extension agronomy agent, most of the management decisions that affect yield on winter grain crops need to be mede before the crop is planted.

These key management factors, often referred to as yield boosters, include site selection, soil fertility, seed bed preparation, planting, variety selection, planting date, and seeding rate.

Variety selection is perhaps the most cost-effective way to control diseases. Selection of high yielding varieties which are resistant to common diseases will go a long way in maximizing yields.

Penn State Agronomy Department evaluates many small grain varieties each year and publishes a report on disease resistance and overall yield potential.

Planting date is a critical aspect of winter grain management. Seeding too early increases the potential for many diseases. Seeding too late will have plants too small to survive the winter. Penn State Agronomy Guide has suggested seeding dates for areas of the state.

To Look At Soils For Small Grains

Site selection is important in two ways for successful winter grain production.

Robert Anderson, Lancaster County extension agronomy agent, reminds us winter grains do not like wet woils. Under wet soil condictions, small grain crops experience excessive winter kill, especially barley.

Also, small grains should not be planted in the same field for two consecutive years because of disease control. Wheat when planted two years in the same location often become infected by the disease "take-all." The name is very appropriate for the severity of this disease.

Soil fertility is another area which needs attention. Soil pH should be between 6.0 and 7.0. Wheat will tolerate the lower pH but barley does much better at a pH of 7.0.

Winter grains also experience significant levels of winter kill if the phoshorous levels are low. Potassium levels should be in the optimum range. A soil test taken before planting will allow soil fertility problems to be addressed before planting.

Nitrogen should be applied in the spring following planting. If the field receives regular applications of livestock manure, additional nitrogen may not be needed and may increase the amount of lodging.

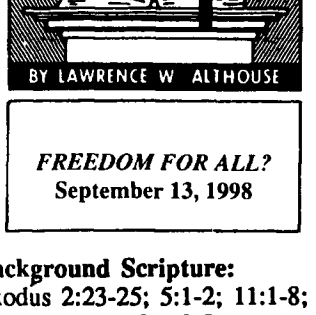
To Adjust Cows to Cool Weather

Glenn Shirk, Lancaster County extension dairy agent, reminds us as we approach the end of summer, temperatures can change greatly and rapidly. Many barns are now tunnel ventilated. These barns have a lot of fans that are designed to move and exchange a lot of air very rapidly.

This works great when temperatures are high. However, when temperatures drop and we fail to reduce the number of fans running, we can chill cows and set them up for respiratory problems such as pneumonia as well as predisposing them to other ailments.

When temperatures drop we need to reduce the number of fans that are running. Do not turn off all the fans or close up the building tightly. We still need to exchange air but at a reduced rate. This allows us to keep the air fresh and the cows healthy.

Feather Proof's Footnote: "We cannot solve today's problems with the same level of thinking that created them."



FREEDOM FOR ALL?
September 13, 1998

Background Scripture:
Exodus 2:23-25; 5:1-2; 11:1-8; 12:29-32; 15:1,2, 19-21
Devotional Reading:
Psalms 105:37-45

In the 1960s, when many of our citizens were engaged in the struggle to realize the American dream of "liberty and justice for all," I well remember those who could not imagine why Christians would become involved in what they regarded as "a secular matter." "Just preach the gospel," I was admonished, "and leave civil rights and social justice to others!"

A decade or so later, when in various Central and South American countries, Christians, Protestant and Roman Catholic, joined with the oppressed in working and sometimes fighting for freedom. I heard much the same arguments. Quite free to speak his opinion without fear, one man said, "You don't have to be free to be a Christian."

True, one can be in some kind of bondage and still be a follower of Jesus. Slaves, convicts and prisoners of all kinds have found Christ in their bondage and served him well. But, if one is a Christian, the desire for freedom burns ever more brightly and Christian discipleship cannot help but bring us into eventual conflict with totalitarian authority. Often it is not enough to "give unto Caesar" the things that are Caesar's, for they are usually not content unless they can also possess what belongs to God.

JUST FOR SOME

Too many Americans believe in "liberty and justice," not "for all, but just for some." In Robert Nathan's book, The Enchanted Voyage, he writes: "Liberty, he thought: you've got to be willing to give it to others if you want to have it yourself." None of us are ever truly free if we deny it to others.

Contrary to what many think, I believe "freedom for all" is a spiritual matter. We cannot possibly understand the Old Testament if we think the quest of freedom has little or nothing to do with God. Its pivotal event was and is the Exodus. "And the people of Israel groaned under their bondage, and cried out for help . . . And God heard their groaning" (3:23,24a). Apparently they did not think that their oppression was not a matter for God. Neither did God.

He not only listened to their cries, he answered their cries with a message for the Pharaoh. (Pharaoh may not have been an evil man per se, just a "practical politician" who was concerned about the economy!) "Thus says the Lord, the God of Israel," says Moses and Aaron, "Let my people go . . ." (5:1). The denial of freedom is contrary to the will of God and "Let my people go" has been the rallying cry of the oppressed through the centuries. The Passover is still at the heart of the Jewish faith and Jesus' celebration of the Passover with his disciples is the central sacrament for Christians. How, then, can we say that freedom is not a spiritual matter?

CONTRARY OPINION

Sometimes we assume that freedom is only for the "worthy" (usually those who believe as we do). John Stuart Mill, one of freedom's greatest prophets, said "If all mankind minus one were of one opinion, and only one person were of the contrary opinion, mankind should be no more justified in silencing that one person, than he, if he had the power, would be justified in silencing mankind." If we truly are committed to liberty and we trust in God, why are we so afraid of opinions contrary to ours? Might it be that we do not really trust in God?"

God acted in history to obtain the liberty of his people. After their escape from the Egyptians, they knew that it was because of God that they were now free and they gave him the thanks and praise: "I will sing to the Lord, for he has triumphed gloriously . . . The Lord is my strength and my song, and he has become my salvation . . . (15:2).

If we examine the democratic ideal upon which our revolution was founded, we will find undisguised the God who said "Let my people go!"

We EME has changed over the years - our main lobby, for example - but we will never change our dedication to the principles that have helped us and our customers achieve sound steady growth

Is your business big enough?

Bigger isn't always better, in farming or in any other business But there are times when it makes sense to enlarge, remodel or update

If you need several million dollars for your farm expansion, The Ephrata National Bank is probably not your bank And that is fine with us Our ag lending policies have always been geared to the small to medium sized operator In over 100 years of serving consumers, famers and other businesses in our communities, we have found that well-planned, sensible growth is always better than growth for the sake of growth

Many of your neighbors have come to appreciate our approach to ag lending Just ask them about us They're easy to find They tend to smile a lot

PENNSYLVANIA DHIA

Others try to get dairymen to believe that they are getting huge savings and still receiving the same quality of service. Don't be fooled. Pennsylvania DHIA never uses pricing gimmicks to attract business. We still have the best DHIA in the industry.

1. The best MUN testing program in the country. At 15 cents a sample and our consistent results it is a program that none can compare. Recently in an independent test with several DHIA's that test for MUN, Dr. Jim Ferguson, Associate Processor of Nutrition of the New Bolton Center, University of Pennsylvania stated that the Pennsylvania DHIA's infrared machine was the most consistent and repeatable.
2. We have the industries highest usable records at 83% used for evaluation by USDA.
3. An owner sampler program at a cost of 84 cents per cow.
4. A DHIA owned and directed by dairymen.
5. All processing and lab operations done in one location.
6. Heifer 98 our newest software program. A powerful Windows program that lets you track your heifers using action list and user defined status codes. This program will be available to everyone in the industry. For a one time price of $29.95 for members and $49.95 for non-members.

To obtain information about any of these programs or to have a technician stop by to see you call Dean Amick.

QUESTION: We feed a single ration TMR and want to know what fiber levels to maintain?

ANSWER: Fiber levels in the cow's diet is probably the first parameter that we should establish when putting together a feeding program of any type.

I think that a TMR system requires some special consideration about fiber that should be talked about as effective fiber. Effective fiber needs to be thought of as both the tested chemical properties and the physical form of the diet.

Typically, ration parameters on fiber include Acid Detergent Fiber (ADF) and Nuetral Detergent Fiber (NDF).

ADF is an indicator of digestibility of a feed and NDF is associated with intake potential of that same feed. It is well documented what acceptable levels of ADF and NDF should be.

I would like to concentrate the discussion on items that require judgement calls and management decisions.

Fiber in our cows' diet must address questions about maintaining rumen health. Fiber not only provides scratch that is needed to stimulate rumen contractions but also can form a matting effect in the cow's rumen that slows down particle separation, and this will maintain a more consistent rumen environment.

How much feed fiber sources we need to feed the cow is mostly dependent on what that source is.

Generally, dry alfalfa or alfalfa haylage that is made for high nutrient density is not the best source of effective fiber.

That is because of the relative high digestibility of the fiber. We also observe that alfalfa tends to physically break up when included in most TMRs. Grass type forages can give us a very nice matting effect that can maintain integrity throughout the TMR, but often is very soft and doesn't lend well to scratch stimulus to the rumen wall.

Feed byproducts have high fiver chemical properties, but does little for scratch or matting in the rumen.

Cottonseed, soyhulls or beet pulp can easily fool us into believing we have adequate fiber in our diets. Products like straw can give us a nice blend of both scratch and matting, but we need to be careful not to decrease nutrient density with such a product.

Ranking fiber sources on their ability to produce satisfactory results can be done on your farms if you think about the different properties of that fiber source more than the chemical comparison of ADF and NDF.

As a guideline, I always do a ranking of feeds that provide fiber by how much I need to use as compared to the next fiber source:

1. Straw or late-made grass hay at low inclusion rates ranging from .5 to 2 pounds per cow.
2. Grass hay of average to good quality at 1.5 to 3 pounds per cow.
3. Late made alfalfa, 2 to 4 pounds per cow.
4. Quality alfalfa, 3 to 6 pounds.
5. Cottonseed or other byproducts can't be fed at a high enough rate, so put your vet on retainer for the displaced abomasum you're about to have.

In conclusion, let me say that the only one capable of saying what fiber level is right on your farm is that four-legged chemist that will give us outputs that are matched to our inputs.

Look at your DHIA records, especially those that indicate rumen health, and make judgement as to how much fiber is needed. Percent butterfat, percent protein, milk pounds, and MUN tell us what we need to know about rumen health and output.

Coupling testing with research and education is still the best management practice we can follow.

since the first system of piping and wood were adopted during the Depression Era, when the complex was built.

"It was alright during the Depression," Secretary Hayes said, "but not alright at this time. "All-American Dairy Show exhibitors will have All-American tie-stalls, as it should be."

The new livestock stall system cost $175,000 and is designed to accommodate a range of animal sizes. (As an improvement to the facility, that compares to $12 million for a new roof for the complex.)

Funding was done through some Farm Show budget changes, according to Grumbine, who received approval for the new stall project from Secretary Hayes, chairman of the Farm Show Commission, which owns and operates the facility.

At this past January's state Farm Show event, Grumbine was able to borrow stalls from the Maryland State Fair for use in the Harrisburg complex's beef area, where large horse stalls had been used for years.

The improvements were noticeable, and Grumbine made the recommendation that it was time for the state Farm Show Commission to purchase a set of its own. Hayes agreed and gave the go-ahead. Grumbine had completed a bid process within 30 days.

Both men have been involved with the Farm Show Complex and the state Farm Show for years — Grumbine as an exhibitor and member of the commission; Hayes first as an exhibitor and then as a supporter, especially when he served as a leader in the state House of Representatives.

They said that the improvements to the facility are very important, for safety, for exhibitor comfort, improved visual appeal, and that they have been needed for years.

The key parts of the new system are 2-inch diameter, hot-dipped galvanized panels, and linking and mounting systems.

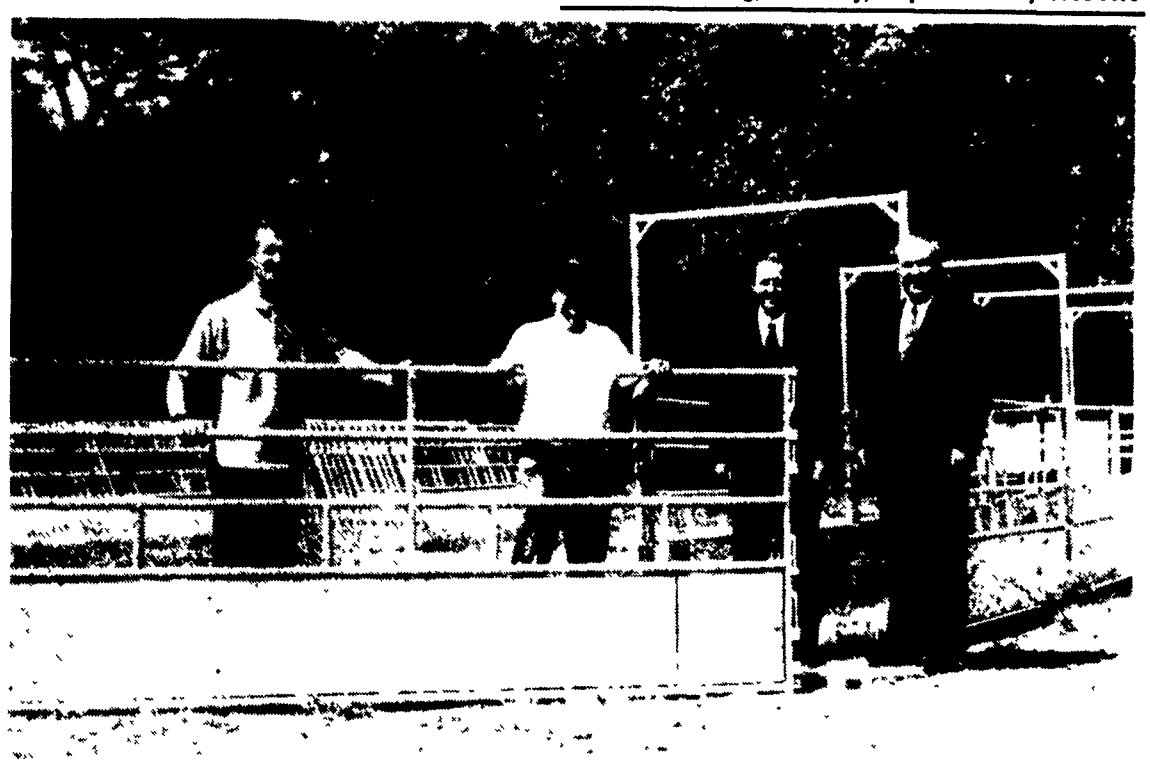
The 10-foot long, 48-inch high stall panels have three mid-rails, the bottom rail at about 2 feet high. Between the bottom rail and the bottom of the frame, plywood is bolted to serve for the rention of bedding materials.

There are three verticle support rails to each panel, one at each end, and one in the middle.

Between the bottom and middle rails of each panel are two sets of short connecting bars that serve as structural supports, and also are spaced so that forklifts can be used to quickly load and deliver a number of the sections.

To serve as the frame supports for the panels are .7-foot-high, 48-inch-wide, verticle frames that serve to anchor the system, as well as provide as connectors for the panels.

In some areas of the building, the frames are to be bolted to the floor. In other areas, where floor drilling is not desired, painted 50-gallon drums filled with water are to be attatched to the support frames for stability.



From the left, Farm Show workers Ashley Rhodes and Dan Schlegel show one of many new Farm Show Complex stall panels being assembled at the rate of 80-per-day in anticipation of the Pennsylvania All-American Dairy Show debut (Sept. 21-24) of the complex's new livestock stall system, and are joined by state Secretary of Agriculture Samuel Hayes Jr. and Farm Show Director Dennis Grumbine who worked together and with others on this project, as well as many others in the past, to improve the complex as a proper showcase for the state's agricultural industry.

Those who have exhibited livestock at the Farm Show Complex know of the old system and some of the problems — in addition to being rusty and unsightly, and broken down, many of the pipes and frames had to be wired together as needed.

This system retains the space between stall walls where exhibitors traditionally keep cots, equipment, feed, etc. (That space is where the water-filled support drums are to be placed, though they shouldn't prevent exhibitors from using those areas.)

Secretary Hayes and Grumbine said the condition of the stalls has been somewhat of a state embarrassment for years.

Grumbine said that the new system will save thousands of hours in setup time, elminate the need for all the wire that was used to fashion a usuable system, and allow Farm Show staff efforts to be redirected toward better work.

The letters were being sent out to allow exhibitors the opportunity to know ahead of time about the changes, especially those who have special displays or intend to have them.

Youth exhibitors at the state Junior Dairy Show, set for Sept. 21, can expect to use the new system also, although letters are not being mailed out to them, since it is not known much ahead of time, in any year, who has qualified or intends to exhibit at the state youth show.

But PAADS exhibitors are to be the first to experience the new system.

In the meantime, Farm Show staff laborers along with a three-man crew from the State Correctional Institution at Camp Hill, have been working to assemble 80 of the stall panels per day, in order to be ready for PAADS.

While the galvanized stall frame work was purchased, the plywood

Richard Beachel s luck wasn t running real high It was harvest and he found himself stuck in the field with a combine that was inoperable because of a blown hydraulic hose Richard called Hoober s McAlisterville dealer ship but they didn t have the part in stock

However Hoober s parts manager at McAlisterville called the Intercourse location and discovered they did have the hose in stock Because it was in the middle of har vest Hoober knew Richard needed the part today not tomorrow So Hoober s airplane delivered the hose to Richard in less than two hours from the initial call The hose was replaced and Richard was harvesting again

Allentown Market Champion 'Secret' — Exercise Lambs

ANDY ANDREWS
Lancaster Farming Staff

ALLENTOWN (Lehigh Co.) — At the Allentown Fair, market lamb champion Laura Segan didn't want to reveal too many secrets about how to obtain the banner.

Only this: exercise the lambs. "Spend time with them," she said.

Laura, a freshman at Marywood University in Scranton studying elementary and special education, said this was her first championship at Allentown. She won at the Thursday evening show with "Nicky," one of a triplet.

Nicky's sister won first place in the middle weight division.

Laura helps on her family's 50-head Hampshire farm in New Tripoli.

John Conaway, Suffolk breeder from Newville, judged the show. He picked Laura's champion out of the 4-H show. He noted that it is possible to to get size and "muscling along with it."

Reserve champion in the 4-H division was won by Amy Wehr, 18, daughter of Delores and Elmer Wehr, Orrfield. Amy showed a purebred Dorset lamb weighing 124 pounds, the reserve heavyweight.

Amy said she plans to study large animal science at Delaware Valley College in the fall.

Amy said she obtained the lamb from Harold Tyson, Kempton. She helped pick it out because she liked its overall structure. She is a long-time Lehigh County 4-H Sheep Club member and this was her first championship at Allentown. Amy plans to show at roundup, Keystone International Livestock Expo, and Farm Show.

The breed show extended over two days, Thursday and Friday.

At the fair, ag ed showman champion and overall showman champion was awarded to Billy Leib. 4-H showman was Meredith Ruzowicz.

There were a total of 51 exhibitors and 284 sheep at Allentown, down from 343 last year. Following is a partial list of show placings.

Woods Capture Banners At Northeast Pa. Show

CAROLYN N. MOYER
Bradford County
Correspondent

TROY (Bradford Co.) — Gor Wood D Holsteins of Mansfield, earned both the premier breeder and premier exhibitor banners at the Northeast Pennsylvania Champion Show at Troy Fairgrounds, Aug. 18.

Topping the 25th annual show, which was judged by Paul Knight, Airville, was Olivia Courtney's EsBern Blackstar Elsie Sis, a senior 2-year-old. She was named the grand champion in both the open and youth divisions over about 100 other entries.

Named the reserve grand champion in the youth division was Stephanie Ulmer's junior 3-year-old, Noisy Oak Skybuck Blinkin.

In the open division, 4-year-old Milstede Charles Abigail, owned by Del-Hollow Farm, Coudersport, was named the reserve grand champion.

Hal Courtney exhibited the junior champion of both the open and junior divisions. His junior calf, EsBern Astre Dosy Daisy, was followed by Seth Ulmer's intermediate calf, Noisy Oak Counselor Bubbles, who was the reserve junior champion in both divisions demand all week at the current price ranges. Western direct feedlot trade turned slightly higher late in the week to end mostly 57.00-58.00. October live cattle futures also advanced this week and are trading near the 60.00 range. All this could be a hint that we have seen the bottom of this cycle's cattle market slump. A good supply of local slaughter cows sold steady to 1.00 lower and slaughter bulls closed 1.00-1.50 lower. This week's supply was made up of around 42 percent slaughter steers, 5 percent slaughter heifers, 36 percent slaughter cows, 4 percent bulls and the balance were feeder cattle.

SLAUGHTER STEERS: High Choice and Prime 2-4 1190-1445 lbs 60.00-63.75; few 3-4 1470-1620 lbs 55.75-59.25. Choice 2-3 1025-1500 lbs 58.00-61.50. Select and low Choice 2-3 1010-1585 lbs 54.75-59.50. Select 1-3 970-1420 lbs 52.00- 57.00.

HOLSTEIN STEERS: Choice 2-3 1270-1585 lbs 51.50-53.00; few 1675-1685 lbs 49.00-49.50. Select and low Choice 2-3 1150-1625 lbs 49.25-51.50. Select 1-2 1055-1330 lbs 45.00-48.75.

SLAUGHTER HEIFERS: Few Choice 2-4 1065-1280 lbs 56.00-59.00. Select and low Choice 2-3 1010-1350 lbs 53.50-56.50; package 965 lbs 51.50. Few Select 1-3 1000-1185 lbs 51.25-55.50. Heiferettes: Few Commercial and Standard 2-4 1095- 1250 lbs 41.25-48.50.

SLAUGHTER BULLS: Yield Grade 1 1220-1802 lbs 45.00-53.50. Yield Grade 2 1075- 2185 lbs 39.50-45.25. Bullocks: Individual Choice 3 1435 lbs 59.25. Few Select 1-3 1065-1440 lbs 48.50-56.00.

CALVES: Compared to last week, vealers calves closed 1.00-2.00 lower with decreased demand from last week. Slaughter calves ended 4.00-5.00 lower. Demand improved for Holstein bull calves returning to feed this week as prices were 8.00-10.00 higher in active trading. Holstein heifer calf trading was spotty with late sales closing weak to 25.00 lower.

VEALERS: Good and Choice 70-110 lbs 17.00-30.00, late 17.00-25.00. Standard and low Good 60-90 lbs 11.00-20.00.

North Atlantic Shell Eggs

Atlanta, Ga.

In Philadelphia, medium prices were unchanged to one cent lower; in Boston, extra large and large prices were unchanged to one cent higher; in New England, extra large and large prices were two cents higher; and the balance of prices was unchanged. The market tone was mixed with large-sized brown eggs fully steady to firm. Demand was in a full range of light to good, mostly moderate. Supplies of mediums were fully adquate, extra large were tight, and other sizes were generally adequate. Brown eggs in New England remained short, especially the larger weights. Breaking stock supplies were adequate for the light demand. Offers of spent hens were sufficient for full slaughter schedules.

PRFMA Announces October Marketing Tour

ALLENTOWN (Lehigh Co.) — The Pennsylvania Retail Farm Market Association has announced plans for an Oct. 14 educational bus tour of four southeastern Pennsylvania retail farm markets that have experienced continued successes.

The program is designed for any farm market owner, manager, or anyone else interested in seeing and learning from retail farm market entrepreneurs about what they are doing to be successful.

The cost for the program is $10 and it covers bus transportation, reference materials and lunch. The program is supported by Penn State Cooperative Extension.

Registration is required, and is being accepted on a first-come, first-serve basis no later than Sept. 30. There are no refunds after that date.

A check should be made payable to: Pennsylvania Retail Farm Market Association.

Registration and payment should be sent to: PRFMA (Room 104), 4184 Dorney Park Road, Allewntown, PA 18104-5798.

There are three different bus pickup sites.

For those leaving from Harrisburg, meet at the Farm Show Complex, Parking Lot J, at 7:15 a.m. The bus will depart at 7:30 a.m.

For those leaving from Allentown, meet at 8:45 a.m. at the county Agricultural Center parking lot, located next to Dorney Park, at 4184 Dorney Park Road. The bus departs at 9 a.m.

For those who live closer to Lansdale, join the tour at its first stop at Merrymead Farm, located at 2222 Valley Forge Road (Route 363), between Rt. 73 and Morris Road.

For more information, call (610) 391-9840.

While the tour organizers recognize that the direct retail marketing season is still fully underway on Oct. 13, they also recognize the value in observing such operations when they are in peak business, as opposed to getting a post-season analysis.

The first stop is to be Merrymead Farm, a Pennsylvania Century Farm with a country farm market that opened in 1971. School tours are an important educational and promotional activity for the operation.

Customers have run of the buildings at this farm market. In addition to milk and ice cream, the Rothenberger family also markets produce, herbs, hanging baskets, pumpkins, apples, cider and Christmas trees.

Freddy Hill Farms & Fredddy's Family Fun Center is the second stop of the tour. Owned by the Seipt family, the store operation opened in 1972, and the fun center was added in 1991. It features miniature golf, a driving range, and batting cages, as well as facilities for groups of people.

The Seipts also feature an annual fall festival, as part of their marketing calendar. Additionally the farm serves as host for school tours, hay rides, pig races and birthday parties.

The next stop is to be Shady Brook Farm owned by the Fleming family. It is located just west of New Jersey, just north of Phildelphia, and next to I95.

In addition to growing and selling produce, Shady Brook Farm also offers some of the most unique agri-tainment features. Their birthday party package includes Moon Bounce, budgsy the Caterpillar, Pumpkin Typhoon, Pony Ride, Barn of Horror, and Fantasy Trail.

Other seasonal entertainment events include an Easter egg hunt, a spring blossom tour, and an educational garden series.

In Bucks County is the Yerkes' family retail farm market on their None Such Farm, the last operation to be visited for the day.

None Such Farm is open from February through December. The multi-generation farm recently celebrated its 20th anniversary of having a retail farm market.

They sell asparagus, broccoli, strawberries, blackberries, cut flowers, herbs and home-grown beef, among a wide variety of offerings.

Special events include school tours, hay rides, pick-your-own, and festivals.

Emphasized during the tour are to be each operation's use of merchandising, signage, display techniques, diversification, store design and layout, pricing, innovative products and ideas, and obstacles of the past and to come.

BUILDING THE FUTURE

PAADS Exhibitors First To Use New Tie-Stalls

spacers have needed to be jig-cut from 4-foot by 8-foot sheets and bolted in 2-foot by 8-foot, and 2-foot by 2-foot sections.

Hayes and Grumbine said the impetus for improving the Farm Show has been growing for years, and really started in 1986, when Hayes served as chairman of the House Appropriations Committee.

According to Hayes and Grumbine, the late Glen Keene, who was Secretary Hayes's animal husbandry professor at Penn State, and who "never allowed me to forget it," was a consistant promoter of Pennsylvania's agriculture, and pressured the two to get work done to improve the Farm Show Complex to the point that it actually reflected the quality of agricultural product being promoted.

Keene had specifically suggested some of the improvements, such as the refurbishing of the building's marquees, done last year.

It was Keene and Grumbine, as co-chairmen of the Keystone International Livestock Exposition, who had gone to Hayes years ago looking for help in purchasing new tractors for the Complex, when it was discovered just before a major livestock show that the existing equipment was no longer capable of moving manure.

The Legislature found its way to approve some funds to purchase new tractors, which are still in operation.

The Maclay Street front of the building now has wooden flower planters used as automobile baracades that help make better sense of the parking and serve not only as flower beds, but also as support structure for hanging baskets. Landscaping has been improved.

Just very recently, the Small Arena has been repainted and other work is ongoing.

Livestock Export Seminar
September 21, 1998
• 6:30 P.M. to 9:30 P.M.

The Pennsylvania Department of Agriculture is offering a workshop to allow farmers and others to learn what is involved with exporting dairy cattle and other livestock.

Buyers Pay Top Prices At Mercer County Livestock Sale

MARSHA ANN CHESS
Mercer Co. Correspondent

MERCER (Mercer Co.) — Buyers competed for grand and reserve grand champion banners almost as intensely as 4-H members on show day, during the Mercer County 4-H Sale of Champions here at the Mercer County 4-H Park.

The sale of champions, which featured the grand and reserve grand champion hogs, rabbits, lambs, steers, goats, and carcass hogs and steers, was followed by the 4-H livestock sale. The sales totaled approximately $94,000 and featured 239 head of livestock.

Before the event got started, the buyers presented Mercer County Extension Livestock Specialist Bob Calvert with a gift to show their appreciation to him for organizing the sale each year.

Tim Gadsby hands over his grand champion market hog to buyers Kenny Haynes of Lakeview Fertilizer and Todd Shearer of Shearer Farms. Haynes and Shearer also represented Sandy Lake Mills, which helped make up the winning bid of $5 per pound.

Nola Irwin's grand champion carcass steer went to Nixon Farm of Mercer for $1.10/lb.

Russell Wyles Wins Central Pennsylvania Championship Show

GAIL STROCK
Mifflin Co. Correspondent

HUNTINGDON (Huntingdon Co.) — "She's got her wedding clothes on her tonight!" exclaimed judge Oren Bender when describing his first choice in the junior 3-year-old class at the Central Pennsylvania Championship Show in Huntingdon.

Joy-Haven DJ Barbie, owned by Russell A. Wyles of Roaring Springs, caught the judge's eye again later that evening when he selected her for grand champion.

Wyles hadn't been expecting to get back into the showring, but a friend encouraged him to show Joy-Haven DJ Barbie after Wyles purchased her at he Spring Sale at Penn State.

"I showed in 4-H, then got out. My kids showed in 4-H, then I quit showing. Now I'm back in," Wyles said.

Barbie won at the Martinsburg and Bedford shows this year, and Wyles plans to show her in the Pennsylvania All American Show, Sept. 20-24, in Harrisburg.

Junior champion honors went to Emily Cloninger's fall calf, while reserve junior champion went to a fall yearling owned by Lori Connelly and exhibited by Fairbrook Farms.

Both owners were junior exhibitors.

DISTRICT MEETING DATES

The Board and Staff of the American Dairy Association and Dairy Council, Inc., invites all Pennsylvania Dairy Farmers to attend this year's District Annual Meetings. The grassroots efforts of ADADC depend on involvement and input by our dairy farmer members. The purpose of our meetings is to present updates on budgets and programs that are used to sell milk to consumers in New York, northern New Jersey and northeastern Pennsylvania. The district meetings are also your chance to select the farmer leaders of the organization.

As part of their membership in ADADC, each farm will receive two free meals and will be credited with $2 off any additional meals at the district meetings. Please attend and take advantage of this opportunity to have your questions answered, and take pride in your award winning programs.

Courtneys Show Supreme Champion At Tioga County Fair

CAROLYN N. MOYER
Tioga Co. Correspondent

WHITNEYVILLE (Tioga Co.) — EsBern Blackstar Elsie Sis, owned by Olivia Courtney, Mansfield, was named the supreme champion of the 1998 Tioga County Fair Open Dairy Show.

"Look what I found!" said judge Dwight Stoltzfus about the Holstein senior 2-year-old as he named her the champion of her breed during the two-day event held Aug. 14-15 at the Tioga County Fairgrounds.

In the Holstein show, Courtney's champion was followed by Gor Wood D Holsteins' Blue-Knoll Missy Ch-Tw, an entry in the six years and over class.

The junior champion of the day also came from EsBern Dairy Farms. Hal Courtney's spring calf, EsBern Astre Dosy Daisy, commanded attention from the judge and took the top position among the calves and heifers. The reserve junior champion was Trisha McIlwain's fall calf, Cha Do Vintage Beauty.

Continuing their winning streak, EsBern Dairy was also named the premier breeder of the show. Gor Wood D Holsteins was named the premier exhibitor.

Maryland, Virginia Returns 80 Percent Patronage Dividends

RESTON, Va. — Maryland and Virginia Milk Producers Cooperative Association Inc. distributed 80 percent of its patronage dividends in cash to its members, totaling $4.1 million, or 21 cents per hundredweight for milk shipped during 1997.

The remaining 20 percent, or 5 cents per hundredweight, has been issued in certificates held in the cooperative's revolving fund.

To expedite the cash distribution of patronage dividends to members, the board of directors approved the distribution of dividend checks, 11 days early, on Friday, August 21. Part of this cash distribution was pre-paid to cooperative members in addition to the "13th check" on February 1, 1998.

According to President Jack Hardesty, a dairy farmer from Berryville, Virginia, "Because of the cooperative's excellent financial condition, the board of directors for Maryland and Virginia has been committed to returning as much cash as soon as possible to the cooperative members."

By law, cooperatives are required to return only 20 percent in cash to its members, making Maryland and Virginia's 80 percent distribution four times higher than required. The cooperative distributed 70 percent for the three previous years, and averaged 57 percent over the last 10 years.

General Manager George Walgrove added, "Even though farmers in Federal Orders 4 and 5 are receiving over $1 per hundredweight more than one year ago, we realize there's a lot of catching up to do. Maryland and Virginia is fortunate to be able to return more than the required 20 percent to members in cash."

This brings the 1997 cooperative earnings to over 75 cents per hundredweight in cash above Federal Order market prices. In addition to patronage dividends, this total includes over-order premiums, quality premiums and profits of raw milk sales.

Maryland and Virginia Milk Producers Cooperative Association, headquartered in Reston, Va., is a milk marketing and processing cooperative which markets milk for 1,150 dairy farmers throughout Pennsylvania, Maryland, Virginia, West Virginia and Delaware. The cooperative includes Marva Maid, a milk processing division in Newport News, Va.; a manufacturing division in Laurel, md.; and an equipment division in Frederick, Md.

Florida Dairy Bowl Teams Sweep National Dairy Bowl Contest

BRATTLEBORO, Vt. — Florida junior and senior dairy bowl teams came away with top honors at the National Ayrshire Dairy Bowl Contest held at the National Ayrshire Convention in Cedar Rapids, Iowa.

Four junior teams and seven senior teams participated in the contest.

Competing on the senior team were Christine Thomas, of Riverview; Sarah Bishop, of Okeechobee; Stacey Revels, Bushnell; and John Spann, Okeechobee.

Placing second in the contest was the team from Maryland with members Mike Creek, Mark Creek, Susan Richardson, and Stephanie Pomraning.

The winning junior team from Florida was made up of members Adam Spann, Okeechobee; Serena Churchwell, Plant City; Amanda Day, Sarasota; and Sarah Clemons, Naples.

The second place team in the junior division was from Iowa; Jason Steinlage, Justin Steinlage, Holly Zumbach and Christina Ehrman.

PMMB Hears Requests To Reduce Over-Order Premium

VERNON ACHENBACH JR.
Lancaster Farming Staff

HARRISBURG (Dauphin Co.) — Representatives for the state's major farm and dairy organizations presented testimony last week to the Pennsylvania Milk Marketing Board (PMMB) to lower the Class I over-order premium as of Nov. 1.

The current over-order premium is set at 80 cents per hundred pounds of milk produced, processed and sold in Pennsylvania for use as drinking milk.

The purpose of the premium is to help maintain the instate production of fluid milk, the most perishable dairy product, during periods when producers suffer temporary economic difficulties.

The loss of instate fluid milk production during temporary economic bad times could eventually make the state dependent upon imported fresh milk, and in the long run, drive up the cost of living for all Pennsylvanians, school districts, etc., or make fresh drinking milk difficult to get or more expensive to purchase in rural areas.

The PMMB held the hearing as part of its normal operations. The current over-order premium level is set to terminate Oct. 31, and the agency regularly holds hearings in advance of such scheduled events.

The over-order premium had been 50 cents and was raised in September 1996 to 80 cents, and raised from 80 cents to $1.20 from in Sept. 1997. In April this year, though scheduled to drop back to 50 cents, dropped back to 80 cents because of continued profitability difficulties for producers.

It is now scheduled to drop to 50 cents on Oct. 31.

Testimony about the effect of the scheduled premium level was received late last week from Bob Pardoe on behalf of the Pennsylvania State Grange; David Hay and Bob Junk on behalf of the Pennsylvania Farmers Union (Hay on behalf of the PFU Milk Producers Association, Junk on behalf of the whole organization); Joel Rotz, dairy specialist with the Pennsylvania Farm Bureau; David Eyster representing Dairylea; and Dennis Schad, representing the Middle Atlantic Cooperative Milk Marketing Association (MACMMA), a marketing coalition of regional and national dairy cooperatives.

All — except Schad, representing MACMMA, and Dairylea's Eyster — requested that the over-order premium be lowered from 80 cents to 50 cents, as is scheduled, given the better position presented to dairy producers for making profit — better raw milk prices and lower grain prices.

In the testimony presented, Schad said the multi-state/national/global cooperatives he represents are seeking a reduction in the Pennsylvania premium to 40 cents.

In his submitted testimony for Dairylea, Eyster requested that the PMMB maintain its 80-cent premium level.

The cooperatives under MACMMA include Dairy Farmers of America (DFA), Land O' Lakes, and the Maryland and Virginia Dairy Producers Cooperative. Last year, DFA went global when it entered into a contract with New Zealand to supply cheese components for the cooperative's United States Italian cheese manufacturing operations in the Mid West.

New Zealand is the world's leader of inexpensive milk and dairy products. Through its government it is a world leader in exporting dairy product. It also has lobbied heavily in Washington D.C. to influence American domestic dairy policy.

Drop It To 40 Cents

While all arguments presented to the PMMB were based on interpretations of statistical data, the MACMMA position was tempered with apparent concern for milk sales and marketing outside of the state.

"MACMMA supports setting a 40-cent Class I over-order premium, based on the current method of premium distribution," Schad stated, though his testimony didn't specify what aspect of the current method of distribution would cause the organization's leaders to seek lowering the over-order beyond the 50-cent per hundredweight (cwt.) rate that has served as a minimum for years.

"Further, MACMMA recommends that this (40-percent) rate remain in effect until a chance in dairy production or marketing conditions occurs, or a change in the distribution methodology warrants an adjustment to the Class I premium."

Schad also urged the PMMB to move quickly on their decision.

Schad stated that MACMMA markets the milk of more than 50 percent of the dairy producers in the state (though he didn't state how much of the state's milk production is represented by those producers.)

The bottom line from MACMMA is that a 40-cents per cwt. over-order premium is all that is needed to "... generate an adequate return to Pennsylvania dairy farmers and will reasonably align Pennsylvania Class I prices with competitive market prices."

Keep It At 80 Cents

According to Dairylea's Eyster, while the price of milk paid to the producer has been revived during previous months into the current month, the market indicators are that the price will drop significantly between October and January.

He based this opinion on the Chicogo Mercantile Exchange Basic Formula Price futures contracts.

Dairy producers have been advised for the past year and more, with the elimination of effective dairy support prices and wildly fluctuating prices, how to manage their operational profits through the purchase of future's contracts. (The goal is to minimize fluctuations in profits, both highs and lows, by locking in a price with a future cash contract, so that profits or losses from the future contract are used to offset the price received for actual dairy product sold.)

The CME Basic Formula Price contracts are relatively new, but based on the fact that the U.S. Department of Agriculture pricing of milk is based on an official Basic Formula Price.

The market BFP levels, while speculative on what the actual USDA BFP will be, are considered to be fairly close to what the actual BFP will be, since those involved with the buying and selling of them are considered to be balancing forces.

Eyster said that CME BFP future's contracts indicate a drop in the price of milk by about $2.73 per hundredweight from the current price.

"Instead of giving consideration to lowering the Class I over-order premium, it is more appropriate to consider an increase in the premium to offset the erosion in farm income that will be occuring due to Class I prices that are expected to be sharply below year-earlier levels, in early 1999."

Though not directly related to the issue of the premium, Eyster also requested that the PMMB issue its public support for Pennsylvania to join the North East Dairy Compact.

50 Cents Is Fine For Now

David Hay spoke on behalf of the Farmers Union Milk Producers Association, with its 110 members who market 8 million pounds of milk per month.

He emphasized, in his comments, that the PFUMPA members' farms are located along the western edge of Pennsylvania.

While most of Pennsylvania dairy producers may have experienced good crop weather and low predation, Hay said western Pennsylvania didn't receive that benefit.

He said his members didn't receive good crop weather earlier this year and are short in quality forages, which are essential to a good milk-producing diet for cows, despite the low grain prices.

He urged the board to "hold the line" on the 50-cent premium, and that he didn't understand how it could be justified at 40 cents.

On behalf of the Pa. State Grange, Bob Pardoe a Northumberland dairy farmer with 150 animals and 360 acres, said that while dairy producers have recovered some of their losses from last year and early this year, that the market will bear the 50-cent premium.

Joel Rotz, representative for the Pennsylvania Farm Bureau, presented evidence of the price/cost of production factors for dairy producers, and requested the PMMB keep its scheduled over-order premium change to 50 cents per cwt

Workshop To Provide Tools For Safety Education

GRANTVILLE (Dauphin Co.) — A statewide farm safety workshop, which also encompasses all-terrain vehicle and gun safety, will be conducted here at the Holiday Inn Oct. 11-12.

The workshop is funded by the National Institute of Occupational Safety and Health (NIOSH), with the possibility of additional funding if the workshop can register more than 25 teams for the workshop, according to Cynthia L. Shaffer, West Snyder High School.

The program, called Partners For A Safer Community, was developed by the National FFA Organization in collaboration with many safety organizations and the assistance of numerous corporate sponsors.

Teams will be trained to implement local safety programs and asked to sign a commitment to conduct a minimum of one safety activity within the next year.

"The state training team in Pennsylvania believes that farm safety is a very important topic," noted Shaffer. "The Partners For A Safer Community Program puts the materials in the hands of rural leaders in order to promote safety and health-promoting behaviors among Pennsylvanians."

Along with the training, a box of instructional materials needed to teach safety (valued at more than $200) will be given to each safety team at no cost. Door prizes valued up to $25 will also be offered to help teams begin building their safety material inventory.

Hotel fee, meals, registration fee, and materials for the workshop are sponsored by a regional grant from NIOSH. The farm safety program is offered free of charge for the first 25 teams to register. A team should consist of one extension agent or FFA adviser, one 4-H member or FFA member, and one community leader.

The conference will be offered at a cost of $375 per team after the first 25 teams have been registered.

Because of the nature of the conference, only one team per county and one team per FFA chapter will be trained free of charge. Overnight accommodations will include a double room for adults and three to four per room for students.

Registration deadline is Monday, Sept. 28. Send them to West Snyder High School, ATTN: Partners For A Safer Community, RR 1 Box 292, Beaver Springs, PA 17812.

For more information, contact Cynthia Shaffer, (717) 658- 8144 or Kerry Hoffman-Richards, (814) 863-0263.

Jersey Is Supreme Cow At Greater Allentown Fair

VERNON ACHENBACH JR.
Lancaster Farming Staff

ALLENTOWN (Lehigh Co..) — A 4-year-old Jersey cow owned by Amy Plummer of Chalfont was named supreme dairy cow of the Greater Allentown Fair on Wednesday.

Plummer's supreme champion was Neshaminy Imperial Prestige, and it marked another honor for the young woman who has been a perennial exhibitor at the fair, along with her father, Paul Plummer.

The family also shows sheep and goats at the fair.

For years, the Allentown Fair has selected a supreme champion dairy cow from among the grand champions of each breed show.

As well, the fair has selected a supreme champion dairy bull, a remnant honor from days when dairy farmers commonly kept bulls for breeding, though mostly replaced now with modern artificial insemenation technology.

There was one bull exhibited at the fair, a young Ayrshire bull calf, Amber-Knoll Tri Shiloh, exhibited by Seth Wolfgang. The Wolfgang family owns Amber-Knoll farm.

Judge for the show was Chris Wood, of Penn-Gate Farm in Littlestown, where she and husband Steve, their son Clayton, and her father Bob Gitt breed Holsteins and dairy farm.

In the rest of the Jersey breed competition, Jill Neiman showed the reserve grand champion, a 3-year-old; Paul Plummer showed the junior champion, a summer yearling; and Amy showed the reserve junior champion, a junior calf.

In the rest of the Ayrshire breed, Karen Sterner showed the grand champion, Anchormere R Johnson 2, an aged cow. Seth Wolfgang showed the reserve grand champion, the second place aged cow, Mars Haven Heligo Sprinkle.

The Wolfgang family also showed the junior champion Ayrshire, an intermediate-aged calf, Amber-Knoll DMD Snow Annabelle; as well as the reserve junior champion, a junior calf.

In the Holstein breed, Seth Wolfgang also showed the grand champion, a 3-year-old, Gail-Bert Tarus Shelby.

Stacy Dietrich, of Lynnacres Farm in New Tripoli, showed the reserve grand champion, also the youth division grand champion, a 3-year-old, Lynnacres Blackstar Frolic. She also showed the open and youth division junior champion, a senior calf, Lynnacres Mascot Lisa.

In the Brown Swiss show, Shannon Semmel exhibited the senior and grand champion, a 3-year-old, Miss Moffit Memphis Bell. The reserve grand champion was a junior 2-year-old, Sterner's Jetway Dandy, owned by Jonathan Sterner.

There were two junior-aged animals in the show, both exhibited by Shannon. Her senior calf was named junior champion and her junior calf was reserve junior champion.

In the Guernsey breed, Karen Sterner exhibited all the champions. Her grand champion was a 3-year-old, Liseter Victor's Hillory; while her reserve grand champion was an aged cow, Amber-Knoll Valerie Ember. Her junior champion was a senior calf, Amber-Knoll Jos Gallant Jill.

In showmanship, Jill Neiman was grand champion of the 4-H division, while older sister Jennifer was grand champion of the agricultural education division (FFA & Vo-Ag).

This year, for the first time, an overall grand champion showman was selected in order to compete again showmanship champions from all livestock species exhibited at Allentown. The supreme champion showman is to be selected during a contest scheduled to be held tomorrow, Sept. 6.

Institute 1998

On behalf of the 1998 NYFEA Institute Committee, we'd like to extend a warm welcome to Nebraska—the Cornhusker State—and Omaha, its largest city You'll find a diversity of attractions, culture and cuisine. You'll stay in the historic Old Market District in downtown Omaha You'll have a chance to discover parts of eastern Nebraska during the two days you're on the road on tour Highlights will include the state's largest dairy at about 2,000 head; a world-recognized irrigation equipment manufacturer, an elk farm and a commercial feedlot. You'll be caught up in "Big Red Fever" during our stop at the University of Nebraska Stadium in Lincoln During the opening banquet, you'll roll with laughter as you listen to the antics of Roger Welsch, Nebraska's Storyteller Institute participants will be treated to an evening at the world-famous Henry Doorly Zoo. Stops will include the Lied Jungle, a spectacular tropical paradise, a perfect place to escape the cold as you stroll through the rain forests of Asia, Africa and South America. At the zoo's Scott Kingdoms of the Seas Aquarium, you'll discover penguins, eels and puffins as well as an 850,000-gallon coral reef-shark system which houses colorful fish and sharks. Another evening will be spent at the brand-new Strategic Air Command Museum where Institute goers can view a unique assortment of aircraft, missiles, rare films and educational displays Circle December 2–6, 1998, on your calendars and discover Nebraska—the Good Life!

florists keeps them busy.

For the Ernst family, the busiest season for the greenhouse comes Easter Week.

"It's the most stressful week of the year," said Linda. "If you can get through Easter week, I tell them, you can get through anything."

"Friends come to help," said Walter. "We get a lot of help from them."

The Ernst family care for Easter plants and spring bedding plants. Easter plant bulbs — including tulips, hyacinths, and daffodils — are planted at the end of October. Lilies are planted the second week of December into six-inch pots. They can plant up to four in the pot.

Poinsettias are single-stem and can be planted up to 15 per pot. They include mixed and red, white, pink, marble, and "jingle bells," said Walter.

Linda said they prefer the single-stem poinsettias because they provide the largest flower. "That's why flower shops want our plants," she said.

The least stressful time for the business doesn't come until August, when it's simply too hot, noted Walter. "That's when we take our vacation — going to the fairs," he said, smiling.

Linda and Walter are both 1958 graduates of Kutztown High School. Walter worked on his grandfather's greenhouse and flower business in Kutztown and moved to his father's operation where he now resides in October 1963.

The house they reside includes an attached addition to the original glass greenhouse. There are four glass greenhouses and additional plastic greenhouses at the site.

Walter serves as director of the fair board, a position he's had since the mid-1970s. He's also been a director of the Berks County Sheep and Wool Growers for many years.

Walter and Linda also serve on the Gouglersville Grange. Walter is gatekeeper and Linda is lecturer. They also belong to the Pomona Grange.

The Ernst family includes David, who works at the Reading Hospital; Valerie, who works as a homemaker and freelance floral arranger; and another son, Steven, who works in the cardboard display advertising business in Shillington.

Walter and Linda have three grandchildren, a daughter of David, Erica, who is 12; and a son and daughter of Valerie, Tyler, 3, and Brielle, 7.

The grandkids help on the farm, Linda noted, and have fun.

Showing at the fairs is a highlight of the year.

Thirty-two years ago Walter remembered getting his first crossbred sheep at the Leesport Market, a "starter herd," he said. After many years the herd quickly became a purebred Suffolk operation with 20 ewes with a good lambing crop.

Now, "We enjoy educating the public," said Walter. "We got a lot of questions about the sheep at Kimberton." But the memories of the Fairgrounds Mall remain.

"We did a better job of educating people when the fair was at the mall," said Linda. "People went shopping when they were in the mall and came to see the fair."

More coverage of winners at the Outstanding Farm Family Awards banquet is included in this issue of Lancaster Farming.

Walter and Linda also serve on the Gouglersville Grange. Walter is gatekeeper and Linda is lecturer. They also belong to the Pomona Grange.

Walter and Linda have three grandchildren, a daughter of David, Erica, who is 12, right; and a son and daughter of Valerie, Tyler, 3, and Brielle, 7.

Walter D.'s pride and joy are the ready-for-show purebred Suffolk sheep, including about 20 ewes and four rams, boarded at the site. Walter raises lambs for sale to youth at several regional shows.

Walter and Linda Ernst rent land from Walter's father, Walter H. Ernst, and operate 12 greenhouses on about four acres south of Reading. This year the greenhouses are home to about 24,000 poinsettias for the upcoming holiday season encompassing about 28,000 square feet, noted Ernst.

Asian Tiger Mosquito Found In Maryland

ANNAPOLIS, Md. — According to Maryland Secretary of Agriculture Henry A. Virts, there has been a significant increase in the distribution of the Asian tiger mosquito in Maryland.

From an initial finding in Baltimore City in 1987, the tiger mosquito has extended its range in 1998 to 10 Maryland counties.

Over the past three years, tiger mosquito populations have become established in southern Maryland and the Eastern Shore.

"We are concerned about this addition to the mosquito species found in Maryland. The tiger mosquito is difficult to control, is a vector of several disease agents and is an aggressive biting pest," Virts said.

The tiger mosquito, Aedes albopictus, is native to Asia, where its natural habitat is forests. It usually is associated with tires, particularly used tires which, when stored or discarded outside, provide excellent breeding sites.

The tires, when transported for resale or disposal, provide a means to disperse mosquito eggs, larvae and adults over long distances. It is believed that a shipment of old tires from Asia to the United States for reprocessing is responsible for the introduction of tiger mosquitoes to America in 1985.

"It has adapted very well to urban and residential environments where containers such as cups, cans and bottles serve as breeding sites. A discarded plastic cup with as little as one-half inch of water can produce dozens of tiger mosquitoes," said Virts.

According to Cy Lesser, chief of Maryland's Mosquito Control Program, conventional mosquito control practices are not effective against tiger mosquitoes.

"The habits of the tiger mosquito are different from native mosquitoes. Tiger mosquito larvae are found in containers, not in natural wetlands, and the adult tiger mosquitoes are most active during daylight and at dusk, not at night," Lesser said.

Searching for and controlling tiger mosquito larvae is extremely labor intensive and logistically difficult. Most adult mosquito control spraying operations are conducted at night when tiger mosquitoes are not active and are not affected by the insecticide applied.

The most effective method of controlling tiger mosquitoes is the removal of the larval breeding sites. This requires the cooperation and participation of the community to rid properties of containers or to prevent containers from holding water for long periods.

Suggested activities for individuals or groups to use to prevent or reduce populations of tiger mosquitoes include:

- Clean rain gutters to allow water to drain.
- Remove old tires or drill drainage holes in tires used for playground equipment.
- Store wading pools inside or turn them upside down when not in use.
- Turn over or remove clay pots and plastic containers.

may not think of her and her husband as farmers, but that they rely upon the soil and are agriculturally affiliated with the labor intensive business of operating 12 greenhouses.

The Ernst family raises 24,000 pointsettias, 10,000 geraniums, 2,500 mums, 3,000 azaleas, and 3,000 lilies.

Four outstanding youth also received awards and $100 bonds for their commitment to agriculture and outstanding work in their particular field. These included two FFA members and two 4-H members.

Lynette Heffner and Josh Lawrey were selected for outstanding service by FFA advisers. Anita Manbeck and Brandon Treichler were selected by 4-H agents.

Lynette recently began studying food science at Penn State. She was graduated from Conrad Weiser High School, where she was active in FFA. Growing up on a farm, Lynette gradually took on more and more duties. At present she helps feed the calves, milk the herd, clip the udders, and body clip the 2-year-old cows.

Despite her involvement on the farm, Lynette participated in numerous ag-related extracurricular activities. One of these included traveling to the United Kingdom and Ireland as a People to People student ambassador.

In addition to FFA awards, Lynette received numerous awards from the Holstein Association, 4-H, and for showing dairy and beef cattle. She has also received the Young Woman of the Month from the Women's Club of Robesonia, the Robesonia Rotary Club Student of the Month, and the department award for agriculture and biology student of her class. Lynette is the daughter of Martha Pool and Gary Heffner.

Twin Valley FFA member Josh Lawrey is best known for his envirothon involvement and habitat improvement projects. He participated in four state Envirothons and been selected in January as the Eastern Pennsylvania FFA Star for Specialty agriculture. He received the award for his wildlife conservation projects that included laying out and helping construct the school environmental educational trails. He also constructed a mini-exhibit on bats, which received first place at Kutztown, Allentown, and Reading fairs and the Pennsylvania Farm Show.

Because Josh is a student at Slippery Rock University majoring in enviromental education, he was unable to attend the awards banquet. His parents, Dot and Gerald Lawrey, Green Hills, accepted the award on his behalf.

For eight years Anita Manbeck has been an active member of the swine and beef 4-H clubs. She has received numerous awards for showing livestock and is a member of the livestock judging team. Anita has served in a 4-H advisory and representative capacity and as a teen leader. She helped with the "Farm to You" program presented to schools. Anita is a senior at Conrad Weiser High School and the daughter of Herman and Connie Manbeck, Womelsdorf.

Brandon has excelled in Dairy Bowl and judging events. He has also exhibited the supreme champion at the Kutztown Fair. Brandon was selected as number one to represent Pennsylvania at the National Dairy Conference. He also attended the Governors School of Agriculture.

Wayne Readinger presents the Outstanding Farm Family of the Year Award to Walter and Linda Ernst.

The son of Keith and Sue Treichler of Kutztown, Brandon serves as president of the Eastern Berks 4-H Dairy Club and has helped teach the "Farm to You" project at the Goddard School in Wyomissing.

Secretary of Agriculture Hayes applauded the achievements of the Ernst family and the youth by reading congratulatory citations.

He also reported that in the past, agriculture did not receive a fair share of taxes paid. "But this year, Governor Ridge and lawmakers gave agriculture a good budget to provide the tools neccesary to help support the ag issues that we feel so strongly about," he said.

"I am convinced we can find answers to agriculture problems if we will continue to work together," Hayes said. "Farm families, who provide food, fiber, and shelter, built a great America and a great Pennsylvania."

Ridge Administration Leads First Pennsylvania Trade Mission To South Africa

HARRISBURG (Dauphin Co.) — Gov. Tom Ridge has announced that Pennsylvania is conducting its first-ever trade mission to Africa's "biggest emerging market" — the Republic of South Africa.

The eight-day trade mission was scheduled to depart today to South Africa and return Sept. 19.

The trip is to be led by four of Gov. Ridge's Cabinet secretaries, and involve 25 Pennsylvania employers, research institutions and associations.

"As Pennsylvania becomes a leader in the new global economy, we must expand our presence in emerging markets like South Africa," Gov. Ridge said. "Our goal is simple: to increase our exports and create jobs in every region of Pennsylvania."

South Africa is one of the world's top 10 "Big Emerging Markets," according to the U.S. Department of Commerce.

In 1997, Pennsylvania's exports to South Africa exceeded $108 million, more than any other African nation.

Pennsylvania's exports jumped 11.4 percent in 1997 to nearly $18 billion, according to the Massachusetts Institute for Social and Economic Research.

Under Gov. Ridge's direction, Pennsylvania has retooled its export programs, including a number of first-in-the-nation initiatives and international trade missions to Canada, Asia, Chile and Argentina, Poland, Brazil, Israel, and Ireland.

Representing Pennsylvania in South Africa will be state Department of Community and Economic Development Secretary Sam McCullough; Department of Environmental Protection Secretary Jim Seif; Department of Labor and Industry Secretary Johnny Butler; and Department of Agriculture Secretary Sam Hayes.

"My Cabinet and administration are committed to international trade — and to the new jobs and opportunities for Pennsylvanians that go with it," said Gov. Ridge. "We are committed to increasing Pennsylvania's two-way trade for one reason — exports mean jobs for Pennsylvanians."

In conjunction with the mission, the state, four companies and the Southern Alleghenies Planning and Development Commission are to jointly promote Pennsylvania products at Electra Mining Africa '98 — the most in-depth mining, industrial and electrical trade show in the world.

More than 35,000 visitors from 49 countries are expected to attend. Machinery and equipment are South Africa's No. 1 import.

The rest of the delegation will seek to capitalize on South Africa's status as Africa's leading market with matchmaker meetings coordinated through Team Pennsylvania's Export Network.

Since the lifting of sanctions in 1994, South Africa has become the most advanced, broadly based and productive economy in Africa with a gross domestic product nearly four times that of Egypt, its closest competitor on the continent.

"South Africa's favorable economic policies, increased privatization of key sectors and a strong international focus have stimulated enormous growth and demand in markets for overseas products, services and strategic partnerships," said Gov. Ridge.

"When we matched our Commonwealth's strengths to South Africa's needs, we found that this country not only is a logical and important market for Pennsylvania to tap, but a country that can benefit from Pennsylvania's experience."

Pennsylvania's top exports to South Africa are: industrial and commercial machinery and computer equipment; chemicals and allied products; electronic and other electrical equipment and components; measuring, analyzing and controlling instruments; miscellaneous manufacturing industries; fabricated metals products; transportation equipment; primary metal industries; transportation equipment; lumber and wood products; and food products.

Cabinet officials are to meet with their South African government counterparts to cultivate two-way trade; to use Pennsylvania technologies and policies to help South Africa expand and modernize its infrastructure for economic and workforce development; and to cultivate long-term strategic partnerships in economic development and community enhancement.

F.O. 4 October Price $18.22

ALEXANDRIA, Va. — Acting Market Administrator David Z. Walker recently announced for October 1998 a Class I price of $18.22 per hundredweight and a Class II price of $15.29 per hundredweight.

The October Class I price includes the 20-cent assessment for fluid milk promotion and consumer education. The Class I price and the Class II price are up 22 cents from September and are $2.92 higher when compared to year earlier levels.

Mr. Walker announced a Class III milk price of $15.11 per hundredweight for August 1998 and a Class III-A price of $16.64 per hundredweight for the month. The Class III price was up 29 cents from the previous month, while the Class III-A price increased $1.

The October 1998 Class I and Class II prices and the August 1998 Class III price are based on the August 1998 basic formula milk price of $14.99 per hundredweight at a 3.5 percent butterfat content.

The August 1998 butterfat price was $2.5154 per pound, up 21.52 cents from July.

The USDA reported that the equivalent Grade A butter price for August was $2.0830 per pound on the mercantile exchange and the Central States nonfat dry milk price was $1.0463 per pound.

Lebanon County Holstein Sale Draws Overflow Crowd

NORTH CORNWALL (Lebanon Co.) — An overflow crowd and 92 registered bidders set the tone for the recent Lebanon County Holstein Club annual sale, held at the county fairgrounds and Expo Center.

Auctioneer was Harry H. Bachman of Annville. Dale Hoover of Lebanon read pedigrees, while Scott Nolt of Lebanon served as sale chairman.

The sale averaged $1,675 on 56 lots, with 15 head selling at $2,000 or better, and one, a fresh Astronaut daughter consigned by Michael Kunkle of Jonestown, sold to Scott and Karen Nolt of Lebanon for a sale high of $2,900.

The second top selling animal was a fresh Aerostar daughter consigned by Trout Springs Holsteins of Lancaster, that sold to Daryl Weaver of Womelsdorf for $2,425.

Third-highest selling animal was an Emory bred heifer consigned by David and Linda Himmelberger of Jonestown, that sold for $2,400 to E. Laverne Martin of Lebanon.

Fourth highest selling lot was a Bellwood-bred heifer consigned by Tom and Cathy Bicksler of Bernville that sold to Daniel Albright of Landisburg for $2,200.

Catagorical sale averages include: one service-age bull, $950; four yearling heifers, $1,368 each; one calf at $525; 19 bred heifers at $1,573 each; 10 fresh cows at $1,910; 19 fresh heifers at $1,832; and two dry cows at $1,487 each.

BEAVER SPRINGS (Snyder Co.) — The East Central District Dairy Show was held recently here at the Beaver Springs Fairground.

One hundred sixty-two animals were cataloged for this year's show. John Burkett served as the type judge, Paul Neer was the showmanship judge, and Sue Sellers was the fitting judge.

Jennifer McWilliams of Beavertown owned the grand champion and reserve Ayrshire.

A 7-year-old cow sired by Monteith Star Jewel was selected as the champion. The West Snyder FFA member's junior yearling was selected as the reserve champion. The animal was sired by Androssan EV Kates Trident and was also named as the best animal bred and owned within the breed. This junior yearling was later named the best junior owned and bred animal at the show. Rebecca Sankey of Clearfield County was awarded the reserve junior champion of the Ayrshire show. He senior calf was sired by Corey-Farms Rebate.

East Central District Dairy Show grand champion Guernsey, Samantha Troxell, with a senior 3-year-old and reserve champion, Denae Johnson, 4-year-old.

In the Guernsey show, Samantha Troxell of Middleburg owned both the grand champion and junior champion. The grand champion cow was a senior 3-year-old sired by Dan Ba Lee WCA Star Wars. The FFA member's junior champion was a junior yearling sired by Rozelyn Prince Jay-ET. The reserve champion of the show was owned by Denae Johnson of Lewisburg. Her 4-year-old cow was sired by Nells Glow Admiral Magic.

There was a large Holstein show, especially in the junior classes. This year's Holstein junior champion was owned by Tara Kocher of Mifflintown. Her summer yearling was sired by Marcrest Encore. The Juniata FFA member who owned the best owner bred animal in the junior show. Her junior calf was sired by Roybrook Vintage-ET. The reserve champion of the Holstein show was owned by Leslie Kenamond of Mifflinburg. Her animal was sired by Carnation Counselor-ET.

In the senior division the top awards were presented to Dianne Glock of Juniata County. The FFA members' junior 3-year-old was sired by Browndale Stardust. It was named as the grand champion and the best owner bred animal of the Holstein show, and the best senior division owner bred animal of the East Central District Dairy Show. The reserve champion animal was owned by Amanda Shaffer of Beavertown. The Snyder County 4-H member's junior 2-year-old was sired by Wa-Del Mystique-ET. It was also named as having the best udder in the Holstein breed.

Within the Jersey breed, this year's junior champion was owned by Jonathan Dietrich of Mifflinburg. The FFA member's

Holstein Foundation Receives $165,000 Challenge Grant

BRATTLEBORO, Vt. — The Holstein Foundation Board of Trustees has announced that William T. Graham, founder of World Dairy Center in Madison, Wisconsin, has generously pledged $165,000 to the Holstein Foundation.

Mr. Graham's pledge is a matching challenge grant to encourage support from individuals, corporation, private foundations, and organizations for the Foundation's Dairy Bowl Contest and Young Dairy Leaders Institute.

Mr. Graham has pledged to match contributions on a 1:1 basis made to the Holstein Foundation for Dairy Bowl Contest up to a mazimum of $5,000 per year for three years (1998, 1999, 2000).

In addition, Mr. Graham has pledged to match contributions on a 1:1 basis made to the Holstein Foundation for Young Dairy Leaders Institute, up to a maximum of $50,000 per year for three years.

"Mr. Graham's unprecedented generosity to the Holstein Foundation to support dairy youth and young adult education programs is a pivotal event in the advancement of the Holstein Foundation's work," says Obie Snider, chairman, Holstein Foundation Board of Trustees.

"Dairy youth and young adults need to develop the leadership and communication skills necessary to participate as full partners in addressing the issues facing rural American," he said. "Through his generous challenge pledge, Mr. Graham has helped to ensure that the Holstein Foundation's programming will continue and grow to develop future dairy leaders."

Holstein Foundaiton is a nonprofit, tax-exempt organization. Its mission is to develop and sustain leaders to meet the new challenges of a changing agricultural environment. The Holstein Foundation's education, leadership development, and outreach programs serve youth and young adults working with all breeds of dairy cattle. Programs include dairy bowl, program workbooks, a summer intern program, and Young Dairy Leaders Institute.

Contributions to the Holstein Foundation are tax-deductible to the full extent of the law. For individuals or corporations wishing to inquire about making a contribution eligible for Mr. Graham's matching challenge grant, please contact Donna Beal, Director of Development, Holstein Foundation, PO Box 816, Brattleboro, VT 05302-0816 or telephone 1-800-952-5200, ext. 2280.

What Does A Retiree Do After The Cows Are Gone?

KENNETH L. ZIMMERMAN
Shirley Zimmerman

FREDERICK, Md. —What do you do when the cows are gone?

First you count your blessings — you still have good health, your family, your land and buildings, and farm equipment. You still need an income so you turn to what you know best and look to what still makes you happy. I decided to concentrate on being able to continue growing field corn and alfalfa hay—those crops I had been growing for years to feed my dairy cows.

Looking ahead and considering those bills, which would be most likely to drain whatever my income would be, I foresaw health insurance as the biggest everyday expense and the real estate taxes on the farm and my home as the largest one time expense. So, I decided to try something new and different.

I planned to plant sweet corn on about four acres of land with the thought of being able to market it best if it were planted and sold early. Early corn in my area would be "jumping the gun" on competitors. We are told when trying new ventures such as roadside selling that we should not "invest more than you are afraid to lose" So I made a makeshift counter to fit on the back of our farm pickup and found a somewhat desirable spot along the highway on the farm We made signs announcing "coming soon" to put up one week before and permanent signs for close by and one at a busy intersection one mile from our home

We started selling our first sweet corn on July 9. That day and everyday but one thereafter until our corn was gone, I took the tractor and a small cart into the field and started picking around 6:30 a.m. I usually filled that cart by around 9:00 a.m., came into the house and showered and pulled the pickup to its selling "spot." My corn selling day began about 10:00 a.m. and ended about 4-6:00 p.m. My goal was to sell all I had picked and then pull away for the day. As an extra special little "treat" my wife made a giveaway flyer with "Zimmandale Farm Recipes" using items sold—corn, tomatoes and potatoes

The first three to four days were the biggest. No one else in the area had sweet corn so "word of mouth" really got around. One lady told me she saw a friend at K-Mart who told her about the corn. She left there and headed for our small stand (approximately 5-6 miles away). Many customers returned and passed the word on to their family, friends and neighbors. One decision that was difficult was what price to charge. We called and asked the price at a couple of stores. Although their corn was not local, we still decided to undersell them. We wanted to move it and yet be within a reasonable price range. Several days later we lowered it $1. They say you must put all aside to concentrate completely on your roadside adventure. Well, I recall that I had not even seen the back buildings on the farm for a couple of weeks. I would call that unusual.

Kenneth Zimmerman sells sweet corn from the back of his pickup truck. Although he made enough money to cover his taxes with a bit leftover, Zimmerman decided his battle with weather and predators isn't a profitable-enough venture.

As we were making plans I though it would be a good idea to also sell tomatoes and plant a couple rows of red potatoes. All went pretty good with one exception. The tomatoes did not ripen enough to sell along with the corn. There were a few to start the day but they soon disappeared. Many customers only wanted tomatoes. Now that I've finished selling corn, the tomatoes are nice and ripe.

When it was all over and as I look back, I'm glad I did it and I reached my goal of being able to pay our real estate taxes. We even had $200 over. My biggest disappointment, and I might add the reason I'm not going to do it again next year, is the battle with Mother Nature in the cornfield. When I went to the field to pick a couple of mornings, I would pull one ear and have to skip the next 7-8 ears The raccoons had had a feast during the night. If there were two ears on one stalk, the 'coons ate the more mature ear Another time I shared my corn with the birds. They just flew down and picked the ends of the biggest best ears. That was really frustration.

Creativity Blossoms At Lebanon County Flower Show

Helen Woods grew this stunning houseplant from a pineapple that she purchased at a supermarket. The plant grows a pineapple that is sweet to eat.

Some of the most fascinating arrangments incorporate unusual materials such as this harvest basket with garden corn and wildflowers and the basket overflowing with colorful hot peppers, cucumbers, wildflowers, and weeds.

LOU ANN GOOD
Lancaster Farming Staff

LEBANON (Lebanon Co.) — At the Lebanon Valley Mall recently, more than 429 entries showcased the beauty and originality that flowers and plants inspire.

Sponsored by the Lebanon County Flower Club, the show was opened to non-club members who wanted to compete for awards.

One of the most fascinating foliage house plants was a Bromeliade Pineapple entered by Helen Woods.

"I grew it from pineapple leaves," Helen said of the spiky plant from which a pineapple is emerging.

According to Helen anyone can grow the eye-catching plant. Purchase a pineapple from the supermarket. Make sure the leaves are tightly attached and not trimmed in the center.

Cut off the leaves leaving one-half inch of the pineapple top intact. Set in air to dry for three days.

Prepare a mixture of potting soil and sand in a flowerpot. Put pineapple top in soil mixture with cut side down. Place in a sunny spot and water.

Helen said that it takes about 18 months to grow a mature pineapple that can be eaten.

"It's a very sweet and delicious," Helen said of the flavor.

The pineapple plant that Helen had on display was about 14 months old.

Competition in the flower arrangement category revealed a prolific assortment of designs and blooms. Some designs appeared simple to achieve, but flower judges examine designs differently than those with untrained eyes.

Some blooms were so perfect they looked like silk flowers. But the most fascinating arrangments often incorporated unusual materials such as harvest baskets overflowing with colorful hot peppers, cucumbers, garden corn, wildflowers, weeds, and twisted corkscrew.

Keiko Smith from Annville won Best of Show, Tri Color, and creativity awards. Keiko studied design in many different places and under many teachers. Her distinct designs have a Japanese flavor. Long, slender leaves are often knotted or slit and folded to complete a design.

"You can always tell her designs," said Alma Schmaltzer, flower club member.

Another top winner was Mary Heffelfinger who received the Grand Sweepstakes, Petite, Award of Merit, and Award of Distinction.

Alma said that new members are welcome to the monthly meetings the club holds. All meetings are held in Freeman Hall at Cornwall Manor on the second floor. The next meeting will be held on Oct. 13. A plant sale will begin at noon and a session on "Hands on Arranging," will begin at 1 p.m. For more information, call Alma Schmaltzer at (717) 949-2116.

HOMESTEAD NOTES

What Does A Retiree Do

Zimmandale Farm Recipes

Corn Fritters

2 eggs
1/2 cup milk
1-3/4 cups flour
1 teaspoon baking powder
1/2 teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon cooking oil
1 cup whole kernel corn
1/2 cup sugar

Beat eggs with sugar by hand and stir in milk. Add dry ingredients to egg and milk mixture; beat. Add cooking oil and corn; drop by teaspoon into deep fat, frying until golden brown. Drain and roll or shake in bag coating with confectioner's sugar

Tomato Gravy

Melt 2-3 teaspoons shortening in bottom of frying pan. Slice a large tomato and coat slices with flour. Fry tomato slices until brown on each side—does not matter if they crumble or fall apart. Sprinkle with a little more flour and add more shortening if too dry. Pour cold milk over all and heat stirring until thick Serve over slices of bread or mashed potatoes.

Judy's Macaroni Salad

1 one pound box (trio) variety of pasta, cooked and cooled
1 cup italian dressing
1 cup mayonnaise
Sugar
1/2 teaspoon italian seasoning
3 cups vegetables mixed such as. cucumbers, tomatoes, broccoli, cauliflower.
4 ounces provolone cheese, cubed

Mix all above and refrigerate until served

Golden Parmesan Potatoes

6 large potatoes
1/4 cup flour
1/4 cup Parmesan cheese
3/4 teaspoon salt
1/8 teaspoon pepper
1/3 cup butter
Parsley, chopped

Pare potatoes, cut into quarters. Combine flour, cheese, salt and pepper in a bag. Moisten potatoes with water and shake a few times in the bag, coating potatoes well with cheese mixture. Melt butter in a 13x9" pan. Place potatoes in single layer in pan. Bake at 375 degree oven for one hour, turing once during baking. When golden brown, sprinkle with parsley. Makes 6-8 servings.

Cheese Scalloped Potatoes

1 can cheddar cheese soup
1/2 cup milk
4 cups potatoes, thinly sliced
1 small onion, thinly sliced
1 tablespoon butter
paprika

Preheat oven to 375 degrees. Heat soup well, slowly add milk. In a 1-1/2 quart casserole dish, arrange alternately potatoes, onion, and soup; dot with butter and sprinkle with paprika. Cover and bake for 1 to 1-1/2 hours Uncover and bake an additional 15 minutes or until done.

Oven Fried Chicken with Potatoes

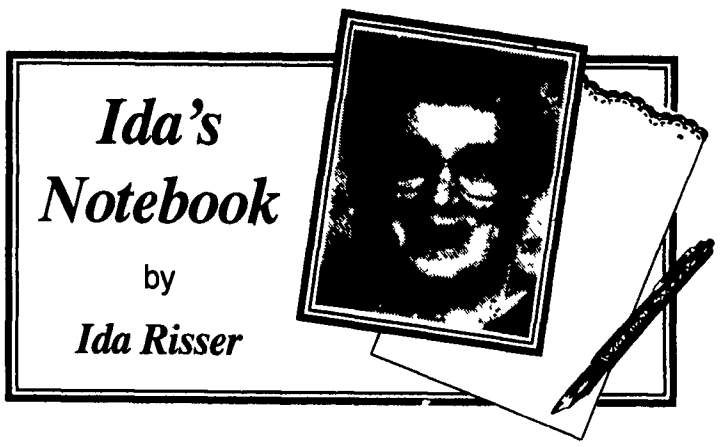
1 whole chicken (if frozen, thaw 3-4 days in refrigerator)
1/2 stick butter
flour
salt and pepper
potatoes (new potatoes are best)

For Chicken: melt butter in preheated 375 degree oven. Rinse, look over, and cut up chicken pieces. Coat with flour and place in buttered pan in single layer, starting with skin side down. Season with salt and pepper. Bake 3/4 of an hour, and then pour off excess grease. Turn all pieces over and bake for another 1/2 hour or more until evenly browned. Oven fried chicken does not have to be watched as closely as pan-fried.

Variations. Oven can be turned up to 375 to 400 degrees for faster frying. Chicken can be coated with buttermilk and then flour or even with cornflake crumbs

For potatoes. Cut up in 1-2 inch chunks Flour and roll around in melted butter before placing chicken in pan (tilt pan) Be sure potatoes are completely covered in butter to ensure crispness Place between chicken pieces.

MILK
Where's your mustache?™



September has always seemed to be the busiest month of the growing season. It is the month that I pick the grapes from the brick smokehouse in the middle of the garden. If I can make grape juice without making a real mess in the kitchen I am happy—that seldom happens.

It is also the month that the pole limas on the permanent fence must be picked and hulled. The first picking gave us a bushel and a half. And, there are lots more beans maturing Something is nibbling at the tomatoes but we still have more for canning than we need. There is a carryover from last year on the canning shelf in the basement

My husband has something to keep him busy too His elderberries have a heavy crop this year We have not had any orders for this year's crop and so he has been removing the tiny berries from the stems and I freeze them. Someday I'll make jelly but as for now, he will have to be satisfied with an elderberry-apple pie.

The last planting of green beans is giving a nice crop but some beans in another garden were almost completely eaten by groundhogs. This year my husband's electric fence did not keep the raccoons from eating most of our sweet corn. There must have been an army of them as they really flattened everything

So, as we sit and peel Bartlett pears to can, we can contemplate having an ample supply of food this winter

Southern Baked Corn

1 1/2 cups fresh or frozen corn
2 cups milk
2 heaping tablespoons flour
Small lump of butter
4 tablespoons sugar
2 eggs
Pinch of salt

Scald milk and add to beaten eggs, sugar and flour. Add other ingredients and bake in medium hot 350-degree oven in buttered baking dish, no more than 3 inches deep for about 35 minutes Serves 8 Can be microwaved 11 minutes, stirring twice.

How many of our grandmothers ever heard of salsa?

Probably not many here in central Pennsylvania, unless they were of Mexican or perhaps Spanish heritage.

And yet, today, salsa is hot, hot, hot. Sometimes, quite literally hot. Because one of the key ingredients to this tomato-based snack dip is hot peppers, or chilies, as our friends in the Southwest call them. And hot peppers are full of the fiery ingredient used in the pepper spray directed at rioters and criminals on the run.

Salsa is one of those foods that came right into the American diet along with a variety of others, once primarily ethnic-associated, that have become mainstays. Pizza, as another, comes to mind.

Our kids introduced us to this low-fat, veggie treat, along with other Mexican favorites which the younger (and many of us older) generation has eagerly embraced) Under their enthusiasm and guidance, such goodies as tacos, burritos, and fajitas have become as familiar on our table as more traditional, local "Pennsylvania Dutch" foods. Like chicken corn soup, dumplings, or that New Year mainstay, pork and sauerkraut.

Actually, the kids took to salsa much better than some older folks I've offered it to Perhaps the aspect of cold tomatoes just doesn't appeal to the more traditional tastebuds of this region of the country

For a couple of years, our salsa brand was either generic or whatever brand happened to be on sale. Or, for which I had a cents-off coupon. We sales/couponing diehards just abhor paying full price for stuff

Then I began finding recipes for salsa scattered throughout newspaper and magazine recipe sections And friends talked about making their own, homemade versions In a take-off of Goldilocks and her visit with the bears, some were too hot. Some were to blah. Some were too runny.

With an annual windfall of tomatoes, I debated some years ago about trying my own hand at a salsa concoction. But the recipes invariably called for stuff that wasn't on hand when the urge struck me—or I never got around to acquiring. Like cilantro, the herb seasoning which most salsa recipes include.

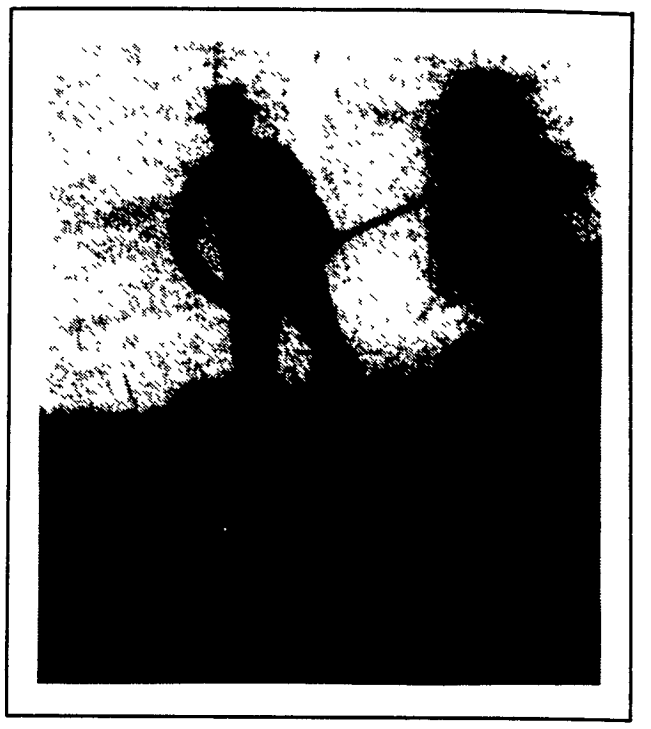
Not to mention another problem. Those hot peppers. Hot peppers are not something one wants to handle casually. Having suffered the consequences of burning fingers and a burning nose which had developed an itch while I was preparing a raw fiery pepper, I learned the uncomfortable way.

A friend recently made out worse in an encounter with hot peppers. Her young son, who was apparently "helping," managed to get a tad of the potent pepper ingredient in his eye. While trying to aid and comfort him, she likewise got peppered.

Last summer, I finally satisfied the urge to try my hand at making salsa. That was after finding those "add vinegar and this packet of season" salsa mixes at the supermarket. Not being big on the extra hot stuff, we lean toward the mild versions. Two batches held us for most of the winter; I carefully spooned the last over burritos in early summer. And then we remained salsa-less for a while.

Last week, some of the tomato abundance was transformed into the first of this year's batches of salsa. Getting ready to store the jars on the basement shelves, I stumbled onto three jars from last year, hiding in a spot where they'd been missed.

We have the salsa. Now all we need is a little organization.



An artisans' village with juried craftsmen, historical reenactments, Pennsylvania German food, farming demonstrations, music, lectures, storytelling and Revolutionary War living history highlight the fifth annual Heemet Fescht on Sept. 19 and 20 at Kutztown University. Hours for the event are 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. Heemet Fescht (Haymet Fesht) which means "home festival" is sponsored by the Kutztown University Pennsylvania German Cultural Heritage Center. A voluntary $2 contribution per person will be accepted. Parking is free. It will be held on the Heritage Center grounds, off Luckenbill Road, located diagonally across from the Kutztown Airport on Old Route 222. For more information, call (610) 683-1330.

Designer Greens

Have you tried the new "designer greens," those leafy mixes called mesclun? They are being served in trendy restaurants and are available in the produce section of many grocery stores Stores are selling mesclun in bulk from open boxes or as prepackaged greens. You can also purchase seeds and grow a crop in your home garden Any way you get them, one cup of these tasty blends is equal to one vitamin packed serving from the vegetable group

Mesclun is a mixture of young lettuces and other leafy greens like arugula, endive, mustard, chicory, cresses, oakleaf lettuce, and romaine. Bachelor's buttons, chive blossoms, marigolds, nasturtiums, violets and other edible flowers or petals may also be part of the mix. Although the specific ingredients vary, the combination of colors, textures and flavors is always interesting.

Seed mixes of mesclun grow quickly and are ready to be used in a few weeks. Harvest in the morning for peak crispness. Use scissors to clip greens when they are a few inches tall. They also make an attractive garden border.

Whether you grow your own or buy from the market, proper care of the harvested product will insure good eating. Select packages or greens that look and smell fresh in amounts you will use in a few days. Prepackaged greens are bagged in a specific material for the product, remove as much as you want to use, roll up to reclose and clip.

Rinse leaves in cool running water to remove dirt and dust. Even if packaged greens have been washed, it will not hurt to wash them again at home Do not use detergent; produce will absorb the chemicals. Soaps and detergents are not intended to be used on food.

Examine leaves for weeds or interlopers, drain and pat dry on a towel. Spin drying will bruise delicate leaves. If not serving immediately, wrap gently in a slightly damp towel and seal in a plastic bag. Store in the refrigerator at 40 degrees F. in the crisper, away from raw meats, poultry or fish. They should remain fresh for several days. If leaves have become wilted, revive them in cool water for 10-15 minutes.

Safe food handling is important for all fresh produce. Recently several fruits and vegetables have been linked to foodborne illness. Even though these account for a very small percentage of cases, it is a concern. Use clean hands and utensils when working with fresh produce. Read the labels and follow safe food handling guidelines.

Use "sell by' or "use by" information if provided on the package or bulk container. Put food away promptly when you get home. As the shelf life lengthens, bacterial growth increases. Throw away vegetables that have been stored more than a few days, are moldy, slimy or show other signs of deterioration. If the bag begins to balloon after several days, discard.

In addition to what consumers can do, the Food and Drug Administration has issued a draft guide describing steps farmers and processors can take to help prevent disease causing microorganisms from contaminating their produce. The guide addresses issues such as water quality, worker hygiene, field and facility sanitation, manure management and transportation.

When fresh produce is served, take care that it is not at room temperature for more than four hours. This includes preparation, transportation and serving time. At buffets where guests serve themselves, use smaller trays of food that can be replaced as needed. Avoid adding fresh foods to those already setting out. Discard any that have been out more than four hours.

Properly handled mesclun is a treat to the eye, as well as the palate. Colors range from bronze to various shades of green to reds; shapes from simple to lacy; and textures from soft to crisp. Rich in vitamin A and potassium, yet low in calories, mesclun served with a low calorie dressing it is a great way to contribute to your "5 A Day" servings of fruit and vegetables What better way to enjoy nature's best.

Bring a smile to kids' faces with fun surprises such as Hairy Bananas and Peanut Butter Banana Roll-Up.

Cookies and fresh fruit are reliable standbys for desserts in packed lunches.

Pack Flavor And Fun Into Sack Lunches

By the time lunch rolls around, most school kids have long since burned off any breakfast calories they consumed. In fact, they're usually so ravenous, they'll eat just about anything.

Why not surprise kids and pack something new and different to take along to school? With a few simple ingredients you can bring a smile to kids' faces and rest assured they'll get a good lunch, complete with delicious fresh fruits such as bananas, pineapple, and mangos.

PAMELA PINEAPPLE MUFFIN

¼ cup sugar
½ cup peanut butter
¼ cup butter, softened
½ cup low-fat milk
2 eggs
2 cups all-purpose flour
1 teaspoon baking soda
1 cup finely chopped fresh pineapple

Beat together sugar, peanut butter, and butter in bowl until light and fluffy. Stir in milk and eggs.

Stir flour, baking soda, and pineapple into batter, until just moistened. Spoon into paper or foil-lined cupcake holders.

Bake at 350 degrees for 20 minutes or until toothpick inserted in center comes out clean.

PEANUT BUTTER BANANA ROLL-UP

8-inch flour tortilla
1 tablespoon peanut butter
1 tablespoon jelly
2 tablespoons raisins
1 banana

Spread tortilla on one side with peanut butter, spread on jelly.

Sprinkle raisins over jelly. Place banana at one end of tortilla. Roll tortilla up with banana inside until closed. Wrap in plastic wrap.

TROPICAL SMOOTHIE

1 cup pineapple juice
1 mango, peeled, seeded, chopped
1 ripe banana

Combine pineapple juice, mango, and banana in blender container. Cover; blend until smooth. Pour into well-chilled thermos to keep cool until lunch

HAIRY BANANAS

¼ cup crushed vanilla wafer cookies
¼ cup crushed dry cereal
3 tablespoons miniature chocolate chips
3 bananas
6 teaspoons peanut butter

Mix cookies, cereal, and chocolate chips on plate.

Spread each banana with 2 teaspoons peanut butter. Roll banana in chocolate mixture and press on ingredients. Wrap in plastic wrap; place in lunch box.

SUNSHINE CHICKEN SALAD ROLL-UPS

10-ounce can chunk white chicken, packed in water
½ cup chopped pineapple
¼ cup non-fat mayonnaise
¼ cup seedless grapes, cut up
¼ teaspoon ground cinnamon
3 8-inch flour tortillas

Drain and flake chicken. Stir together chicken, pineapple, mayonnaise, grapes, and cinnamon in medium bowl.

Spread about half a cup chicken mixture over each flour tortilla. Roll up tortilla; cover with plastic wrap. Place in lunch box with pack of blue ice, to assure the sandwich is kept cool until lunch.

Putting Variety Into Brown Bag Lunches

What are your reasons for carrying a lunch to work or school? Is it for convenience, necessity, or just to save money? Whatever the reason, the following tips will help your keep your brown bag lunch in step with the dietary guidelines. (Even if you're not a "brown bagger," you can use this approach for other activities too, like picnics or hikes.)

- Use a variety of foods from the major food groups
- Keep calories in mind. Fats and sugars can quickly add more calories than you need. Lunchtime beverages and desserts are two possible sources of extra sugars and fats.
- Use only small amounts of high-fat foods, such as butter, margarine, mayonnaise, sour cream, and fatty meats.
- Include foods with dietary fiber, such as fruits, vegetables, and wholegrain breads.
- Choose low-sodium foods, such as fresh fruits and vegetables and lean meat and poultry, most often.

MOM'S CHOCOLATE CHIP COOKIES

Cookies:
1½ cups butter, softened
1¼ cups firmly packed brown sugar
1 cup sugar
2 eggs
1 tablespoon vanilla
3¾ cups all-purpose flour
1 cup quick-cooking oats
2 teaspoons baking soda
1 teaspoon salt

Choose from the following stir-ins:
2 4-ounce bars milk chocolate, cut into small chunks
12-ounce package semi-sweet chocolate chips
1½ cups candy-coated chocolate pieces
1½ cups raisins

Heat oven to 350 degrees. In large mixer bowl, combine butter, brown sugar, and sugar. Beat at medium speed, scraping bowl often, until creamy (1 to 2 minutes). Add egg and vanilla; continue beating until well mixed (1 minute).

Reduce speed to low; add all remaining cookie ingredients. Continue beating, scraping bowl often, until well mixed.

By hand, stir in chocolate pieces.

Drop by rounded tablespoonfuls 2-inches apart onto ungreased cookie sheets. Bake for 10 to 12 minutes or until very lightly browned. For even baking, rotate cookie sheets halfway through baking time). Let stand one minute before removing from cookie sheets.

5 dozen cookies.

Beyond the basics

Peanuty Chocolate Chip Cookies: Omit quick-cooking oats and substitute 1 cup peanut butter.

Easy Chocolate Chip Bars: Prepare cookies as directed above; spread dough into lightly greased 15x10x1-inch jelly roll pan. Bake for 25 to 30 minutes or until toothpick inserted in center comes out clean. Cool completely. Cut into 48 bars.

Consuming Thoughts

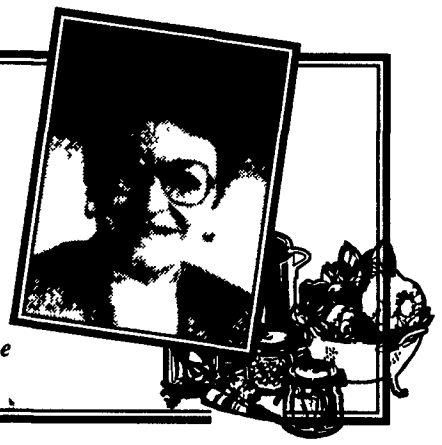
Penn State Extension Home Economist For Berks Co.



Are you planning to can or preserve peppers, garlic, or any other moist vegetable-in-oil this season? If the answer is yes, be sure to follow modern tested recipes and the recommendations from your Penn State Cooperative Extension office or US FDA Guidelines.

The United States Food and Drug Administration (US FDA) recommends that consumers not prepare any homemade vegetable-or spice-in-oil, - margarine or butter recipe for extended storage.

Why is there concern about canning vegetables in oil?

Peppers, onions, garlic, spices and oils of all types are low in acid. Tomatoes are borderline acid. Air cannot readily pass through oil, so moist, low-acid vegetables covered with oil are in a low-oxygen, low-acid environment. This makes them potentially susceptible to the growth of Clostridium botulinum bacteria spores. Clostridium botulinum bacteria are widespread in the environment and may be found on various kinds of produce, including peppers and garlic. The spores of Clostridium botulinum are harmless in an air or oxygen environment, but in an oxygen-free or air-free environment such as oil, the spores, if present, could multiply and produce the deadly toxin that causes botulism.

Bacteria multiply quickly at room temperature. Each microorganism becomes 2 in 20 minutes, each of those 2 splits into 4 in 40 minutes, then into 8 in one hour, into 64 in two hours, into 4,096 in 4 hours and so on In just 8 hours one little bacteria has become 16,777,216 microorganisms?

If Clostridium botulinum is present and multiplies even to a small extent, toxins are given off that produce botulism, an often fatal foodborne illness

A moist vegetable-in-oil mixture sitting on a dining room table is at room temperature. If it is present, the bacteria that causes botulism has the perfect environment in which to produce its deadly toxin in a low-acid, low-oxygen, room temperature environment! We have no way to tell if Clostridium botulinum is present or not.

Refrigerating these mixtures can prevent the growth of any microorganisms present. Although vegetables can be made more acid by covering them with vinegar or lemon juice before putting oil over them (and this is done commercially), few university-or US FDA-test consumer recipes exist that use this technique.

The US FDA recommends that consumers not prepare any homemade vegetables- or spice-in-oil, - margarine or butter recipes for extended storage because the protective additives used in commercial mixes are not generally available for homemade products. Consumers are urged to refrigerate all such products and to dispose immediately of any products suspected to be spoiled or to have been stored unrefrigerated.

The "Let's Preserve Peppers" fact sheet is available from your local Penn State Cooperative Extension office and contains a recipe for making "Marinated Peppers" that is researched-tested. The recipe calls for a tested proportion of peppers, onion, garlic, horseradish and oregano, lemon juice and vinegar, and the mixture is processed in a boiling water bath canner to preserve it safely. Once opened, the product should be stored in the refrigerator and eaten within three weeks The "Let's Preserve Peppers" fact sheet also has modern tested recipes for pickled peppers, pickled hot peppers, pickled pepper-onion relish and pickled corn-pepper relish

To request 'Let's Preserve Peppers" send a self-addressed, stamped envelope to Berks County Cooperative Extension, Berks County Ag Center 1238 County Welfare Road, Leesport, PA 19533-0520.

Brown Bag

Following the Dietary Guidelines doesn't mean eliminating all your favorite lunchtime foods—but it does mean balancing the foods that are higher in fat, sugars, or sodium with other foods that contain less of these components.

Brown Bag Checklist

How does your brownbag lunch rate? Answer the following questions to see how many food groups your lunch usually includes

How often does your lunch contain the following:

- Fruits or fruit juices?
- Vegetables or vegetable juices?
- Enriched breads, pastas, or other grain products (especially wholegrain types)?
- Lean meat, poultry, fish, or alternates (dry beans, peas, lentils, peanuts, and eggs)?
- Lowfat milk cheese or yogurt?

Hesston Forage Harvesters Model 7155S

The secret to low-cost forage harvesting.

It's no big secret that whole-stalk corn silage produces 40 to 50% more digestible energy over corn harvested as grain

The big secret is how economically and efficiently you can harvest it with a Hesston® 7155S Forage Harvester

More cutting power.

Designed for the average-sized livestock producer, this small machine packs a big punch Its "straight-thru crop-flow" design puts more power into cutting, less into handling the crop That means greater field efficiency year after year

The 7155S easily handles tractor PTOs from 90 to 175 hp, and is available with 2-row corn silage header or 6-foot-wide hay pickup

Fingertip control.

Electro-hydraulic remote control puts harvesting functions at your fingertips, and the 1,000 rpm drive assures big capacity

This season, make silage more efficiently and economically – with a new Hesston 7155S See us today

QUESTION — Marie White would like recipes for whoopie pies in different flavors.

QUESTION — A Pennsdale reader writes that she always admires Grange exhibits at the Fair, but was always puzzled that people would bother to can potatoes. Now, she believe it would be advantageous to have canned potatoes to use when unable to get to the store during a blizzard or hurricane. She wants complete instructions on how to can potatoes.

QUESTION — Betty Lou Gambler, Concord, writes that her mother purchased a pickle compound at the former People's Drug Store during the 1940s and 1950s. There were four packages in one recipe and contained rock salt, saccharine, clove oil, and an acid of some kind that was mixed into 1 gallon of cold vinegar and poured over pickles. The pickles were ready to eat within several days and tasted delicious. She has tried many stores and has not been able to locate the pickling compound. Can any one help her?

QUESTION — Irene Greer wants the different types of creams such as heavy cream, light cream, whipping cream, explained. She has been cooking for years, but has always been confused by these terms. She asked if whipping cream always needs to be whipped before using in a recipe?

QUESTION — Shirley Schwoerer, Wysox has had a bumper crop of coriander this year but is not sure how to use it. She would like recipes and suggestions for using this. She is particularly interested in a coriander chicken recipe.

QUESTION — Barbara from Kutztown would like a recipe for the sauce that is used to dip steamed dumplings into at a Chinese restaurant.

QUESTION — A reader wants a recipe for cherry nut filling for homemade candy.

QUESTION — A reader wants a recipe for the bretzel.

QUESTION — Rose Diehl, Bloomsburg, wants recipes for turkey scrapple and turkey bologna.

ANSWER — John Lapp, Gordonville, wanted a recipe to make elderberry wine to treat colds and flu. Thanks to Fran Westfall, New Oxford, for sending a recipe, which her husband made when he was alive. She used it for marinating meat.

Elderberry Wine
Medicinal Purpose

Wash and clean 8 quarts of elderberries. Crush them in a deep saucepan and add 2 quarts water. Tie up 2 teaspoons whole cloves, 2 teaspoons whole allspice, and a 3-inch cinnamon stick in a piece of cheese cloth. Add them to the pan.

Bring the mixture to a boil. Cook until the berries are soft. Strain the juice and measure it. Add 1½ cups sugar to each quart of juice. Cook for 30 minutes over medium heat, stirring often until it begins to thicken. Strain again and cool thoroughly. Measure the juice again. For each quart, add one cup brandy. Mix well and pour in sterile bottles. Seal it and let stand for at least a month before drinking.

If you want a very sweet cordial, add 2 cups sugar for each quart of unsweetened juice.

ANSWER — A reader wanted to know if there is a way to can string beans without the jars becoming cloudy. Fran Westfall sent information that states that table salt contains a filler that can cause cloudiness in the bottom of the jar and can be mistaken for spoilage. Use pure canning or pickling salt instead of table salt.

ANSWER — Elizabeth Welsh, Easton, wanted a recipe for corn fritters. Thanks to Anna Martin, Denver, for sending this one.

Corn Fritters

2 cups fresh corn, grated
2 eggs
¼ cup flour
1 teaspoon salt
⅛ teaspoon pepper
1 teaspoon baking powder
2 tablespoons cream or half and half
4 tablespoons shortening

Add beaten eggs, flour, baking powder, salt, and pepper to the grated corn. Mix thoroughly. Add the cream. Melt shortening in a skillet and drop corn mixture by the spoonfuls into the hot shortening. Brown on both sides. Makes 16 to 18 fritters.

Here's a recipe from another reader.

Corn Fritters

2 eggs, separated
2 tablespoons flour
1 tablespoon sugar
2 cups grated fresh corn

Beat the egg yolks and add the flour, 1 teaspoon salt and a little pepper. Add the corn and fold in stiffly beaten egg whites. Drop small spoonfuls on greased griddle or frying pan. Do not cook to fast.

ANSWER — Shirley Hodecker, Carlisle, wanted a recipe for a cool summer drink called orange aide. Thanks to Mary Ann Reich for sending a recipe.

Orange-Lemon-Aide

1¾ cups sugar
2½ cups water
1½ cups fresh lemon juice (8 lemons)
1½ cups fresh orange juice (5 oranges)
2 tablespoons grated lemon peel
2 tablespoons grated orange peel
Water

In a medium saucepan, combine sugar and water. Cook over medium heat, stirring occasionally until sugar dissolves. Cool. Add juices and peel to cooled sugar syrup. Cover and let stand at room temperature for one hour. Strain syrup, cover and refrigerate. To serve, fill glass or pitcher with equal amounts of fruit syrup and water. Add ice and serve. Makes 12 servings.

ANSWER — Nancy Bachenstoes, Germansville, wanted an ice cream recipe to use in a 5 gallon freezer. She preferred a recipe without eggs or a pudding-based recipe. Thanks to Susan Mayo Cooksey, Jefferson, Md., for sending a recipe.

Homemade Ice Cream

1¼ gallons milk
10 cups sugar
5 quarts half and half
5 pints whipping cream
5 cans evaporated milk
5-15 tablespoons vanilla to taste

Cook down the milk and sugar until thicker and tan-colored. Let cool. Add the next three ingredients and vanilla. Add fruit or 5 large bags of mini chocolate chips if you like. Freeze in ice cream freezer according to manual.

Lunches

dom or never" column? Although it's not essential to eat something from each food group for lunch, doing so helps your meet your daily nutritional needs. For an adequate diet, each day try to eat at least two servings of fruit; three servings of vegetables; six servings of breads or other grain products; two servings of lean meat, poultry, fish, or alternates; and two servings of milk, cheese or yogurt. You'll want to keep your day's intake of fat, sugars, and sodium moderate too. Smart choices for bag lunches can help.

Lunch is more than the sandwich or hot dish you carry in your brown bag. It also includes the fruits, vegetables, snack-type foods, beverages, and desserts that go in the bag. The suggestions and recipes that follow will help you choose foods that fit into Guidelines-style eating.

Brown Bag Snacks and Desserts

Snacks and desserts can really perk up your daily lunch, but they can be high in fat, sodium sugars, and calories and low in fiber. With a bit of planning ahead and the help of these ideas, you can make guidelines style treats for brown bag lunches.

• Make these basics a part of lunch or a coffee-break snack fresh fruits, such as melon grapes, apples; a small amount of natural swiss cheese (has less sodium than most cheeses) with whole-grain crackers or fruit; lower fat cookies and crackers (melba toast, crisp bread, fig bars, graham crackers, gingersnaps, or unsalted pretzels).

• Substitute plain popcorn for potato, corn or tortilla chips.

• Instead of buying sweets, make your own cookies, quick breads, muffins, or cupcakes with less sugar and fat. Use whole-grain flours and oatmeal, and add shredded vegetables or chopped dried fruits for a nutrient and fiber bonus Freeze some homemade baked products so you have a bag-lunch supply when needed.

Cold Lunch

Tired of sandwiches and hot lunches? Try some of these cold foods:

• Plain lowfat yogurt and fruit.

• Raw vegetable salad with strips of lean cooked meat or poultry.

• Cottage cheese and raw vegetable pieces.

• Fresh fruits and cheese.

• Brown rice salad with cubes of roast or stewed chicken without skin.

• Tuna fish salad (try reduced-sodium, water-packed tuna).

• Vegetables marinated in italian or herb salad dressing with a few cubes of swiss cheese on the side (Swiss cheese is lower in sodium than many cheeses).

• Cold cooked pasta salad with pieces of raw or cooked vegetables.

Roses All'Season Long

Roses are the essence of late summer. Gardeners who are photographers, painters or sculptors, use roses all summer long in every setting imaginable.

Roses are used for lawn plantings, flower borders, for growing on arbors and trellises, as specimen tree roses, as hedges, and as bedding plants. No matter what their use, all varieties are an excellent source of cut flowers to fill your house all summer long.

Although the spring and summer planting season is past, many nurseries carry roses throughout the summer and fall. Fall planted roses require winter mulching. Cover the crowns in mid-November with mulch, soil, compost or shredded leaves or pine needles.

Roses grow best where they have full sunshine all day. Some roses grow satisfactorily if they have only six hours of sun. If your garden is shaded, plant roses where they will have morning sun. If leaves remain wet with morning dew too long, they may be susceptible to black spot and several leaf diseases.

Roses are defined by their habits of growth and are called either bush, climbing or shrub roses. Full grown bush roses range in height from 1 to 6 feet high and require no support Climbing roses produce long canes and must have some kind of support such as a trellis or an arbor.

Carefree landscape shrub roses have a variety of growth habits but often grow 5 to 6 feet in height and spread. These roses are low maintenance. They require little if any spraying. The fast growing 'Meidiland' hybrid family of flowering shrub roses have many landscape applications. 'White' and 'red' Meidiland are low-growing ground covers, 'Pearl' and 'scarlet' meidiland have a mounting type of form. 'Pink' Meidiland and the all-American selection winner, Bonica are upright hedge growers that will arch as they mature.

Improved Meidiland roses adding mass color to the landscape include 'Alba', an improved white rose used as a 5 to 6 foot wide groundcover. It grows 2 to 2 1/2 feet high 'Royal' Bonica, is an improved Bonica sport producing orange hips in late fall and winter. 'Cherry' Meidiland has cherry red flowers with white eyes.

Meidiland roses look best when planted in mass rather than as a single specimen. Use them along a sunny driveway or use as a groundcover to cover a bank. Look for them in mail order catalogues or garden centers.

Kiddie Tractor Pull Takes Strong Muscles

HARFORD, Md. — The seventh annual Kiddy Tractor Pull was held recently at the Harford Fair. More than 150 young contestants, ages 4 through 10, "pedaled their hardest" to gain their last inches of ground. Enthusiastic children pulled as parents and other spectators cheered them on.

Children all across Susquehanna County took part in the pull as well as children from Factoryville, Dallas, Danville, Shavertown, Wyalusing, Greencastle, Woolrich, Taylor, Scranton, Jermyn, Macungie, Halifax, Philadelphia and Clarks Summit, Pa., Sparta, N.J., Long Island, Conklin, Port Crane, Binghamton, Apalachin and Albany, N.Y., and Belmont, Mass.

The tractors used were donated by Bartron Supply, Tunkhannock, and Lindsey Lawn and Garden Center, New Milford. The tractors were altered for pulling and the weight sled was built by Doug Puzo of Montrose. Businesses donating materials to alter tractors and build the weight sled were: Andre & Son, Montrose Auto Parts, Puzo's Body Shop, Cornerstone Forest Products, Crafts Lumber, and M & M Machine Shop.

The event was organized by Doug and Mary Puzo, and Evie Goff. Members of the Watrous Corners 4-H Club donated their time to work at the event. Those members were Chris Hughes, Aubrey Wood, Dan Puzo, Jason Atkinson and Tyler Singleton. Other volunteers assisting at this event included Jessie and John Puzo and Scott DeMora.

The Susquehanna County alternate dairy princess Melisa Marcy, Harford Fair Queen Nicole Chidester and Fair Queen Alternate Katie Cross were on hand to present awards. The Harford Fair Association provided a trophy for the first-place winner in each division. Ribbons were awarded to all other participants.

In the junior division the four-year-old first and second place winners were Megan Bush, Dimock; Megan Oliver, Springville; Alex Koehler, Montrose, and Dylan Thomas, Kingsley; five-year-old winners were Rachel Smarkusky, Nicholson; Meghan Honeyford, Montrose; Ben Oliver, Springville and Jesse Frystak of Montrose; six-year-old winners were Daisy Matulevich, Kingsley; Kaitlin Callender, Thompson; Todd Howard, Conklin and Kodie Warring; the seven-year-old winners were Abbey Puzo, Montrose; Paulina Tompkins, Union Dale, Michael Greenwood and Rip VanWinkle III both of Montrose. In the senior division the eight-year-old first and second place winners were Chelsey Saam and Brittany Zembrowski both of Thompson; Clair Tompkins, Union Dale; David Smarkusky, Nicholson; the nine-year-old winners were Cara Hollenbeck, Port Crane; Beth Stone, Susquehanna; Daniel Glezen, Hallstead, Jared Lagermasini, New Milford; 10-year-old winners were Tara Rhodes, Taylor; Aubrey Wood, Montrose, Billy Lopatofsky, Union Dale and Brian Belcher, Hop Bottom.

The Junior and Senior Champions receiving grand champion ribbons were Abbey Puzo, Michael Greenwood, Chelsey Saam and Daniel Glezen.

A fair should be fun for the kids. Harford Fair provides just that with an event like the Kiddy Tractor Pull, an opportunity for kids to take part in an event at the fair. The cheers and applause heard from the spectators indicated this event was well received. Look for this event to continue at the Harford Fair next year.

Why do some cats go crazy over catnip?
Cats that love catnip are really fun to watch — they'll dance all over just to get a whiff of the harmless feline treat.
First, some catnip basics. Catnip is another word for catmint, an herb related to all the other kinds of mint plants around. When you touch or break a leaf of catnip, the smell of a special chemical called nepetalactone escapes into the air. (Say knee-PET-ah-LACK-tone.)
The chemical gives catnip its distinct smell, and it affects the part of the cat's brain that controls behavior. Veterinarians think catnip is a lot like a hormone naturally produced by female cats when they are ready to find a mate. Catnip can make kitty roll on her back, be extra playful, purr more and beg to be petted — all actions a girl cat uses to catch a boy cat's eye. Catnip, though, makes both male and female cats act goofy.
While fresh catnip or kitty toys stuffed with catnip drive some cats nuts, other cats don't seem to be interested in the special treat at all. Kittens never react to it. Only about 50 percent of adult cats show any interest in the treat.
But it's not typical feline aloofness that keeps these adult cats from playing — they just didn't inherit the genes from their parents that make them genetically wired to go gaga over catnip.

Oh, the Wonderful Things A Toddler Can Do!

My daughter, just past her 18-month birthday, is already actively demonstrating her independent streak!

She has a Dr. Seuss book that she loves, Mr. Brown Can Moo, Can You. It starts, "Oh, the wonderful sounds Mr. Brown can do. He can sound like a cow. He can go Moo, Moo." These days I find myself saying under my breath with some sarcasm, "Oh, the wonderful things a toddler can do, she can ..."

This week, the list sounds like this: She can put her foot on the table and giggle. She can ask to sit on the potty and as soon as I get her there, she can scream "no" and say "diaper." She can ask for water, and when I give her water, shove it away and ask for juice, and when I give her juice say "Nooo" and ask for milk. She likes to say, "Paula SIT!" Of course, that usually means she wants to sit on the chair that someone else is already on or she wants a chair of her own, not sitting on an adult's lap.

Oh the wonderful things a toddler can do! I am working hard to tell myself that these acts of independence and demonstrations of power are not deliberate attacks on me. Of course, convincing myself of this at the end of a hard day is difficult. I am also reminding myself that children need limits and after the second or third time of trying to meet a wish, it's okay to simply say no and allow her to pout, throw a temper tantrum or whatever.

What have I found out about dealing with tantrums? When at all possible, simply ignore them. Walk away (to give yourself a break) as long as your child is safe. Remove the child from a public setting (like a grocery store, playground, etc.) if necessary. You may also want to remove the child from the situation if she wants to strike out (by throwing something or hitting, etc.). Sometimes holding a child closely and talking softly will help the child get back under control. Try to avoid "giving in to" the tantrum or whining in order to regain some peace and quiet.

All this "wanting things the way they aren't currently" reminds me of a family story that my mother tells of a youngster not wanting to take a bath. At first the water was too hot. After cool water was added, then it was too cold. Finally, in exasperation, the child proclaimed that the water was too wet.

That's the life of a toddler. They want to choose, and when they can't control everything around them, the best thing they know how to do is to refuse what the parent suggests.

Fortunately, I have found within a few minutes she comes over looking for a kiss. And it's at these times that I'm reminded of all the other wonderful things a toddler can do—like stare wide-eyed in amazement at a sky full of clouds at sunset, or dance with abandon to music, or give hugs freely to anyone, or walk between your legs a hundred times saying, "Mommy, tunnel" and giggle.

With toddlers, as with all children, it's a matter of taking time to appreciate them as they are.

Farm Women Societies

Berks Society 3

For the past few months, Berks Farm Women Society 3 has enjoyed fellowship over great desserts. In May, members listened to Joe Deagelei tell about the Civil War at the home of Nancee Moyer, Boyertonw. In June, members went to the home of Michelle Ferreiras, Barto, for a gardening workshop. In July, members and guests totalling 50 met for a picnic at the home of Jeanette Miller, Barto. Everyone had a great time, adults played Bingo, and the children enjoyed a fishing pond and other games.

At the Somerset County Fair, Secretary of Agriculture Samuel E. Hayes Jr., center, talks with a visitor while Byron Glessinger, fair board president, watches.

Somerset Fair Keeps Growing

GAY BROWNLEE
Somerset Co. Correspondent

MEYERSDALE (Somerset Co.) — "When I am in Somerset County I feel like I m at home" Samuel E Hayes Jr, the state secretary of agriculture told the crowd during an intermission of the Crystal Marie show

The secretary was in town to be the grand marshal of the annual Farmers and Merchants Parade at the Somerset County Fair and to help dedicate two new buildings, the pavilion and the exhibit hall, invested in by the fair board of directors

The skies overhead dumped more moisture than the planned activities could absorb on Monday evening The parade was scratched, but the benefits of the new, bleacher-filled pavilion, were shown to tremendous advantage.

Crystal Marie's show could go on as usual and Hayes who was accompanied by Kenneth Mowry, regional director stood inside, just beyond the dripping eaves, and enjoyed the 12-year-old singer as did everybody else

"I always say a county fair that is standing still is not standing still," Hayes added when on the platform, "it is falling behind," he emphasized to the audience

"This is as good a fair as you will find in Pennsylvania or anywhere else," the well-traveled Hayes observed

It's obvious that Crystal Marie knows how to woo new fans with an amazing stage presence for one so youg She often was moving through the crowd, shaking hands while continuing to sing

No seasoned politician running for office could have outshone the beguiling young lady in her nifty red white and blue spangled costume, made by her grandmother Linda, who handmakes all the costumes, and acts as her agent

Crystal's folks at all times are with Crystal Marie during the family-oriented shows

Fran, Crystal Marie's mother, helps her daughter with choreography and writes songs Dave, her dad, and Denny, her grandfather, manage the sound system

David, her brother, manages the computer side and Adam, age 4, keeps everybody happy and down to earth

"He is my cheerer upper," Crystal says. "He runs up on stage and hugs me."

Performer Crystal Marie, 12, poses with Somerset County commissioner David Mankamyer and sheriff Carl Brown at the Somerset County Fair.

At age 7 she entered Crazy Fest, a talent show for amateurs held in Altoona Two years ago she entered the county fair circuit starting in Lycoming County.

"It was really neat," she recalled. "I had never signed so many autographs"

The funniest part was the things that were presented for her signature — horse brushes, swimsuits, hats, books

In 1977, because she showcased at the Hershey Convention Center where the county fair associations book talents for their various fairs, a whirlwind schedule was soon in the works for 1998. From June through October Crystal will appear on numerous stages across the state.

She hopes country-western singing is becoming a career where ballet, jazz and tap dancing she learned earlier will be a bonus In fact, her on-stage poise and obvious ease with people already testifies that it is.

Julie Sechler Is Somerset Fair Queen

GAY BROWNLEE
Somerset Co. Correspondent

MEYERSDALE (Somerset Co.) — After her coronation following the Sunday night Vesper Service, 18-year-old Julie Sechler became highly visible to visitors coming to the Somerset County Fair, which was blessed with lots of great weather.

After all, she was the new fair queen, so to exhibit friendliness to everyone she met was a responsibility not to be ignored in an area where hospitality runs high with folks.

She passed out ribbons and plaques at the market animal shows, conversed on the midway, met the county sheriff and Dale Martin and the Cowboys and took particular notice of children Tiaras inspire their devotion

Julie is hardly a stranger to the fair For nine years the freshman at the Univeristy of Pittsburgh's Johnstown campus, has had 4-H sewing projects to enter in competition

The skilled sewer says a first place was often awarded or even Best of Show for the handmade entries she brought.

Three times she has received the Junior Wool Award

Ask, however, what is her favorite part of the fair and don't be surprised to hear it's the cotton candy that she finds most irresistible

The kid's pedal power competition was a blast The tykes spent every bit of energy they could muster to achieve distance, while the fair queen under a fascinating crown, make each one feel special with her bright smile

To children not quite bold enough to compete, there was a coloring book handout

Being in the public eye, obviously, fits her style since Julie once won the interview award in the Maple Queen Scholarship Pageant and was the first-runner-up in the Somerset County Junior Miss Scholarship Pageant

In the Buffalo Creek 4-H Club, she's been secretary, a junior leader and 4-H'er of the Year A member, also of county council, the seamstress has been named to the state top 10 in 4-H Fashion Revue

Among her scholastic honors, while in high school Julie was a member of the 1000+ SAT Club

Julie is the daughter of Rick and Audrey Sechler of Meyersdale, and a member of the Meyersdale Grace Brethren Church.

First runner-up in the fair queen contest was Erica Stair. Erin Livengood was second runner-up. Vying also were Tara Hottle, Jill Brant, and Katie Shaulis.

Somerset Livestock Sale Tops $170,500

GAY BROWNLEE
Somerset Co. Correspondent

MEYERSDALE (Somerset Co.) — Sales topped $170,547 during the sale of 48 steers, 66 market lambs, nine carcass lambs and 213 market swine at the Somerset County 4-H and FFA Livestock Sale held during the county fair.

Steers brought $70,425; lambs, $20,295 and swine, $79,828 during the six hours of bidding.

Premier buyer Lincoln Supply and Equipment, which bought 12 animals during the sale for a total outlay of $11,067, bought Lucas Svonavec's grand champion steer.

The 1,250-pound animal brought $3.75 a pound for a total of $4,687.50.

Svonavec, 16, is from Rockwood.

Dr. Robert Bastian took the reserve champion steer, of Jason Fisher, Boswell, that weighed 1,215 pounds for a $2 price tag, for a total of $2,430.

The steer was also the county bred champion.

Jeffrey Knotts, Meyersdale, had the county bred reserve champion, which brought $1,574, when purchased for $1.25 from Renaissance Nutrition.

Build Strong Families

SUMMERDALE (Dauphin Co.) — "Families Making Choices" is the theme for the eighth annual Building Strong Families Conference to be held on Wednesday, October 7, from 8:30 a.m. until 2 p.m. at the Capital Area Intermedicate Unit in Summerdale. The conference is designed to serve as a catalyst for people working with families and include lectures, workshops, networking, and exhibits.

Dr. Donald Murk from Messiah College will present the opening address "Brain Development and How It Influences a Lifetime of Decisions." Dr. Murk will discuss how an infant's brain development during the first few months sets the pattern for decisions later in life.

Keynote speaker for the luncheon is Dr. Brenda Hayes Johnson of Lifespan Associates in Philadelphia. In her address, "Increasing Awareness of Our Anger: A Focus for Constructive Change," Dr. Johnson will review the change process and assist participants in reviewing methods to assist families with constructive changes.

In addition, conference participants can choose from concurrent workshops scheduled throughout the day. Workshops include: Brain Development, Welfare Reform, Women in Transition, Single Mothers Following Separation and Divorce, and Working with Families in Dispute.

The conference is sponsored by Penn State Cooperative Extension, RADAR of Dauphin County, Tri-County Alliance for Youth, and Bethany Children's Home and Counseling Ministries.

Early registration fee is $30 ($20 for students). Professional credits are additional $5 each. Registration deadline is September 30. For more information or to receive a registration packet, contact the Penn State Cooperative Extension office in Dauphin County at (717) 921-8803 or in Cumberland County at (717) 240-6500.

Farmers Union Computer Game Wins Design Award

DENVER, Colo. — Farm Fun CD, National Farmers Union's (NFU) educational computer game, has been selected a winner in the 1998 American Graphic Design Awards competition. The award recognizes both NFU and Alpha Dog, Inc., of Delaware, Ohio, the game developer.

A panel of nine judges made the selection in one of the nation's most prestigious competitions. Sponsored by Graphic Design: USA, the 22-year-old contest had some 10,000 entries in 1998. Less than seven percent of all entries were named winners.

Farm Fun CD, which is aimed at children in kindergarten through third grade, features a winsome foursome of a raccoon, kitten, mouse and frog, which guide players through the game. Players learn about how the foods they eat are raised, processed, packaged and transported. Certain components of the game also are designed to teach children memory and motor skills. The game features original animation and actual video clips of on-farm production and food processing.

The game was developed with funding from Archer Daniels Midland Company in Peoria, Ill., and is currently being sold exclusively through local FFA chapters. For more information on the game, contact Leesa Christensen at 800-347-1961, extension 2527.

National Farmers Union is a general farm organization representing nearly 300,000 family farmers and ranchers nationwide. NFU serves its membership by assisting with education, by providing stimulus and know-how for farmer-owned cooperatives, and by presenting the organizations' policies to lawmakers at the local, state and national levels.

Waymart Milling, Ellen Memorial Support Wayne Youth

HONESDALE (Wayne Co.) — At 11 a.m. on Saturday, Aug. 15, at the Wayne County Fairgrounds, Honesdale, local 4-H'ers successfully offered 319 animals for sale at the Wayne County Junior Livestock Sale.

Area businesses, parents, and friends purchased market hogs, steers, and lambs for a total sale figure of $150,282.30.

Helping the youth sell their animals were volunteer auctioneers Wayne Weaver, who also donated the use of his ring and equipment as in years past, and Dick Sands, Dan Naylor, Tom Randt, John Regan, and Bob Earl.

At the beginning of the sale two scholarships were awarded to outstanding livestock exhibitors who will be entering college in the fall. The recipients were Carrie Keyes, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Keyes, Waymart, and Timothy Hauenstein, son of Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Hauenstein, Forest City. Carrie will enter Gannon College and Tim will be a freshman at Penn State University, Worthington Scranton Campus.

For the third year in a row, Waymart Milling Company was volume buyer at the sale. This year, however, it shared volume buyer honors with Ellen Memorial Health Care Center of Honesdale. Both businesses poured out their hearts and their wallets for the benefits of local 4-H members.

The first animal offered for sale was the 250-pound grand champion hog raised by Michael Sheruda of the Kountry Kids 4-H Club. This animal was purchased by Dr. Henry Nebzydoski, veterinarian from Pleasant Mount and Carbondale Veterinary Hospital, for $2,475.

The reserve grand champion market hog was raised by Nick Nebzydoski of the Pleasant Mount Go-Getters. Marshall Machinery, Beach Lake, successfully bid this animal to $2,107.

Carrie Keyes, Waymart, sold her grand champion market lamb to Honesdale National Bank for $1,080. Carrie is a member of the Pleasant Mount Go-Getters.

The reserve grand champion lamb was raised by Ryan Keyes, also of the Pleasant Mount Go-Getters. Top Notch Distributors of Honesdale purchased this animal for $713.

Julie Olver's grand champion market steer was bought by Ellen Memorial Health Care Center for $3,855. Nick Nebzydoski raised the reserve grand champion market steer, which was sold for $2,793 to Waymart Milling Company.

Several animals were donated back and resold to benefit organizations and individuals. Those who returned animals for resale include Honesdale National Bank, Community Bank and Trust, Fallsdale Farms, Town and Country Energy, Ellen Memorial Health Care Center, Cochecton Mills, Top Notch Distributors, Welsh Farms, John and Sue Keyes, and Deerpark Lumber.

Those who benefited from the resales are Tiffany Swingle, a critically ill local 4-H member. The Wayne County Livestock Scholarship Fund, Friends of Wrestling, the Wayne County Agriculture Society, Center Medical Fund, and the Kountry Kids 4-H Club.

A beef barbecue was served to all buyers and 4-H members during the sale.

Fashion Revue Winners Excel At State Level

UNIVERSITY PARK (Centre Co.) — Special honors went to 10 contestants at the annual State 4-H Fashion Revue, held Aug. 5 at Eisenhower Auditorium on Penn State's University Park campus.

Fifty-nine regional finalists modeled outfits constructed as part of their 4-H projects. Judges based honors selections on construction skill, garment fit, appropriateness, and modeling poise.

Natalie Foxwell, 15, daughter of Gary and Bonnie Foxwell of Meyersdale, was selected to participate in the 1998 National 4-H Fashion Revue at the National 4-H Congress to be held in Atlanta, Ga., Nov. 27-30. She made and modeled a powder blue, two-piece suit of 100 percent wool gabardine.

Erin Stennett, 15, daughter of Diane Carson and Ed Stennett of Irwin, made an unlined jacket of 100 percent wool felt, a crepe blouse and wool tweed pants.

Both males in the revue were named to the Honors Group. They were Jesse Murren, 17, son of Terrence and Patricia Murren of New Oxford, who made and modeled a brown tweed Pendelton wool sport coat, brown cords and classic 100 percent cotton button-down shirt; and Joshua Folk, 15, son of Richard and Oralee Folk of Leesport, who made a camouflage outfit and hot seat.

Sisters from New Galilee, daughters of Donald and Linda McCuean, also were named to the Honors Group. Amy McCuean, 15, made a casual jacket and hat, cuffed trousers, turquoise blouse and vest of seven layers of print cotton and challis fabrics. The fabrics were stitched, sliced, and laundered to create a fuzzy chenille look. Her sister, Jeanne McCuean, 18, made a Victorian-era hooded cape and high-waisted gored skirt of 100 percent wool. Her Victorian blouse was made from more than 25 yards of antique lace. The detachable hood trim and muff were made of natural blue fox fur that was recycled from an old coat.

Holly Hoover, 13, daughter of Marty and Lois Hoover of Denver, made a 100 percent polyester challis long-sleeved dress with an off-white collar. Heidi Shryock, 15, daughter of Gary and Carla Shryock of Clearville, made a four-piece outfit of 100 percent wool plaid which included, a lined jacket, vest, tapered pants, and blouse.

The 1996 Congress winner, Christina Zylka, 17, daughter of Susan and Edwin Zylka of Mt. Pleasant, made and modeled a lined pink wrap jacket and trousers and a navy and pink sweater set of Dale Norway fingering wool. A beret completed her ensemble.

Danielle Sanderson, 17, daughter of Craig and Joann Sanderson of Carlisle, made a three-piece ensemble featuring a loose-fiting jacket made with an Italian boucle fabric called Frise, a semi-fitted lined top and contrasting skirt of 100 percent wool.

Other than the Congress winner, the honors group was selected in no particular order. The judges were Myranda Computo of Plymouth Meeting, Mary Alice Fyock of Lititz and Tatina Ott of Monroeville.

All youths attending the State 4-H Fashion Revue were previously selected as county and regional winners. As part of the revue, they participated in educational workshops. The theme of this year's revue was "Picture Perfect." The revue was conducted by volunteer leaders, extension Achievement Days, held Aug. 4-6.

POURED SOLID CONCRETE

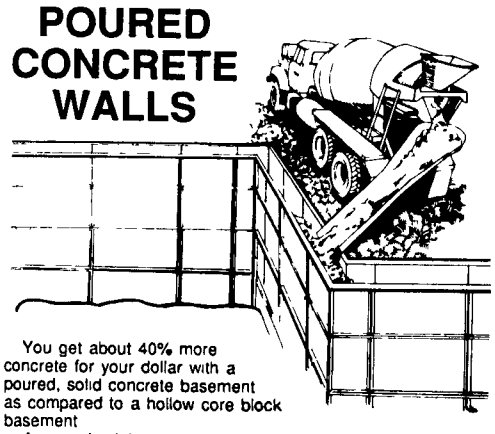
START WITH THE BEST!

POURED CONCRETE WALLS



You get about 40% more concrete for your dollar with a poured, solid concrete basement as compared to a hollow core block basement

A poured solid concrete basement weighs about 50 lbs more per cubic foot! Far denser What's more, poured solid concrete walls are monolithic there are no joints!

This is why laboratory tests show poured, solid concrete basements have many times the flexural and compressive strength to withstand the side and down pressures caused by earth, wind, water and building loads and the material density to resist water penetration

Best of all, thanks to modern and efficient construction techniques, poured, solid concrete basements are competitively priced

Solid Concrete For:

- Manure Pit Walls
- Hog House Walls
- Barnyard Walls
- Chicken House Walls
- Retaining Walls
- House Foundation Walls
- Silage Pit Walls
- Cistern Walls
- Concrete Decks
- Concrete Pit Tops

Mifflin County Stages Youth Fair Livestock Sale

GAIL STROCK
Mifflin Co. Correspondent

LEWISTOWN (Mifflin Co.) — All week during the Mifflin Countyk Youth Fair, folks look forward to Friday night's Livestock Auction. Business owners and private individuals turn out to support area youth involved in FFA and 4-H.

But this year, the sale began not with bidding, but with an award presentation. Juniata-Mifflin Counties Area Vocational Technical School agricultural education teacher Mark Laub enlisted the help of Rep. Kerry Benninghoff to present the Teacher of Teachers Bronze Award to fellow ag teacher Ed Aurand.

Aurand, a teacher for 22 years, was waiting for the bidding to start when he heard his name called. A surprised Aurand made his way through the crowd to accept the award from Laub and Benninghoff. Laub, once a student of Aurand's, had submitted Aurand's name to the National Association of Agricultural Educators for the award.

Later in the evening, auctioneer Mark Glick roused the bidding higher for a gallon of milk that's usually milked from the grand champion dairy cow. But this year's cow, was a dry cow. This year's representative gallon of milk sold for $650 and was purchased by Martin Fields of Martin Fields Real Estate. Proceeds will go to the Fair Fund.

Bidders this year, as in past years, could purchase an animal or enter the buy-back program. Proceeds benefited the Erika Bell Fund and the 4-H Development Fund.

Sales this year totaled $90,581.81. Fourteen rabbits sold for a total of $854. Ten goats sold for a total of $1,814.50. The sale of 53 lambs netted $7,532.15. The sale of 135 swine totaled $28,598.55. Forty-five steers sold for a total of $51,782.61.

Heidi Shaffer's grand champion market rabbit sold for $212.50, purchased by Joe Krentzman & Son. The reserve champion rabbit, shown by Connie Shaffer, was purchased by Tim Houser Trucking for $157.50.

Toby Houser's grand champion goat was purchased by Rob Seitz of Sunnybrook Farms for $780. The reserve grand champion goat, owned by Chrisy Seitz, was sold for $365.75 to Paul Brown Excavating.

The grand champion market lamb, owned by Beth Penepacker, went to Miller's Diner for $638 while the Natalie Aurand's reserve champion went to Eastern Industries for $560.50.

Sherm Glick of Kish Valley Buying Station and Hatfield Quality Meats placed the winning bid for both Donald Stufft's grand champion swine and Amy Aurand's reserve champion. Stufft's hog sold for $851 while Aurand's sold for $806.40.

Gregg Campbell of Hoss's Steak and Sea House purchased Doug Brubaker's grand champion steer for $3,480. Ernie Young of Big Valley Feed and Grain purchased Staci Young's reserve champion steer for $2,604.

LAURELTON (Union Co.) — The 20th Annual Union County 4-H and FFA Junior Livestock Sale took place here at the West End Fairgrounds recently.

Forty-nine Union County youth participated in this year's sale, which grossed more than $34,000.

A total of seven rabbit meat pens, 11 steers, 34 market hogs, and 41 market lambs were sold by auctioneer Bryan D. Imes of Port Royal.

This year's grand champion market steer was purchased by Robert Hamm of the Country Cupboard in Lewisburg. A bid of $3 a pound was received for the 1,325-pound Angus steer, owned by Adam Wolfe of New Columbia. Adam is the son of Dennis and Anna Wolfe of Lewisburg.

The reserve champion market steer was purchased by Bill Campbell of Hoss's Steak and Seahouse. A bid of $2.50 a pound was given for the 1,240-pound Angus crossbred steer owned by Jeremy Wolfe. Jeremy is also the son of Dennis and Anna Wolfe of Lewisburg. In a show of support and commitment to Union County youth. Hoss's resold the steer with the proceeds being split between the 4-H and FFA scholarship funds.

The grand champion market hog was owned by Jessica Byerly of New Columbia. The 234-pound crossbred Duroc hog was purchased by Robert Hamm for the Country Cupboard for $7 a pound. Jessica is the daughter of Jeff and Rhoda Byerly of West Milton. The reserve champion hog was owned by Sandra Beck. The 224-pound reserve champion Hampshire was purchased by Bill Campbell of Hoss's Steak and Seahouse for $3 a pound. Sandra is the daughter of Dennis and Celia Beck of New Columbia.

The champion market lamb was purchased by Cliff and Robert Valentine for the Mifflinburg Bank & Trust for $10 a pound. The 119-pound champion was owned by Derek Rabuck of New Columbia. Derek is a Union County 4-H member and the son of Mark and Lysa Rabuck. The reserve champion market lamb was purchased by Larry Benfer for the Middleburg Auction for $6.50 a pound. The 109-pound reserve champion lamb was raised by Derek Rice of Mifflinburg. Derek is a FFA member and the son of Thomas and Evelyn Rice.

A total of 43 different individuals purchased animals at this year's sale. The average price paid per pound excluding the champion and reserve champion animals were Steers - $.90, Hogs - $1.10, and Lambs - $1.21.

Take Control Of Your Money

SPRINGFIELD (Delaware Co.) — Penn State Cooperative Extension is offering a free workshop "Taking Control of Your Money." It is offered Monday, September 28 from 7:30 to 9:30 p.m. at the Delaware County office in Smedley Park, Springfield. Robert J. Thee, Ph.D., CFP, extension agent, housing and family resource management from Lancaster County will be instructor for the workshop.

When you think no one cares if you're alive, try missing a couple of car payments. If you are having trouble making ends meet, if your current money management method isn't working, or if it just needs a little improvement, come to "Taking Control of Your Money." Learn the basics of creating a spending plan and credit use. The information will help you and your family deal with the dilemmas and decisions regarding earning, spending and saving money.

Financial success requires teamwork, so a family needs to talk together about money. Discussions concerning how to spend money, what the family's future needs are, when to use credit, and other issues are as necessary as organizing records themselves. In fact, if your family talks rather than argues about money, you will probably have fewer money problems.

To register or for more information call Penn State Cooperative Extension in Delaware County at 610-690-2655 before September 24.

Food For Profit

STROUDSBURG (Monroe Co.) — A seminar for those interested in starting or improving the operation of a small food product business is being offered by Penn State Cooperative Extension and PENNTAP on Saturday, September 26, at the Best Western, Main Street, Stroudsburg.

Topics include what it's like to own a food business, developing a business plan, finding a market niche, packaging the product, Pennsylvania Department of Agriculture licensing regulations, food labeling, safe food handling, pricing the product, and keeping business records. A panel of successful food related business persons will also be sharing their experiences.

This seminar is especially designed for those baking breads and cakes and pies, growing and drying herbs, making flavored vinegars, packaging gourmet dinners for one or families, making jams and jellies, canning salsa or other items for farm markets, bazaars, grocery stores, etc.

The seminar is from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m., and costs $25 per person including lunch and reference materials. Payment must accompany registration which is due September 16 to the Pike County Extension Office at 506 Broad Street, Milford, PA 18337. Make checks payable to "Extension Special Account." For additional information, call the Monroe County Penn State Cooperative Extension Office at (717) 421-6430.

Tioga Co. Correspondent

WHITNEYVILLE (Tioga Co.) — In a combined sale that boasted 11 steers, 17 lambs, 39 hogs, and six gallons of milk, supporters filled the bleachers waiting for their chance to bid on one of the prize-winning lots.

Among the steers, Kyle Rouse of Little Marsh showed the grand champion. The 1,054-pound animal commanded a price of $1.70 per pound and was sold to Cornell Brothers Agway.

The reserve grand champion steer was raised by Lauren Webster, Wellsboro. Her 1,368-pound steer was sold to First Citizens National Bank for $1.25 per pound.

The overall average on the steers was just under a dollar at $.936.

In the market lamb sale, 17 animals averaged $1.63.

Cornell Brothers Agway again purchased a champion as they made the final bid on LeeAnn Tice's 130-pound grand champion for $5.50 per pound. Tice is from Lawrenceville.

Northeastern Farm Credit bought the 128-pound reserve grand champion lamb from Jordan McIlwain, Liberty, for $5.75 per pound.

At the market hog sale, prices hovered around one dollar with the average settling at $1.13 on 39 head. Topping the sale was the 262-pound grand champion swine raised by Jennifer Gorenflo, Lawrenceville. Trade Service Systems purchased her hog for $2.75.

The reserve champion market hog was sold to Citizens and Northern Bank for $2.25 per pound. The 257-pound hog was raised by Amanda Graves, Little Marsh.

In addition to the youth raised animals, a donation hog crossed the auction block and was resold three times, raising more than $500 for improvements to the hog facility.

In the milk auction, Reed's Feed Mill purchased the grand champion Jersey milk from Paul Blackwell for $350. The second high mark was $325. Chelsea Coolidge with her Holstein and Jason Butler with his Brown Swiss sold their milk to CoreStates Bank and Middlebury Cooperative respectively for that price.

The high volume buyer for the day was Citizens and Northern Bank with a total of six purchases, including four lambs and two hogs. Northeastern Farm Credit, Reed's Feed Mill, and Brooks Forest Products tied for the second high volume buyer of the day with four purchases each.

QUESTION — Mary Pazzaglia, Columbia Cross Roads, wants addresses for suppliers for chipwood baskets that measures 4½ -inch wide and 3¼ -inch deep, and 2½ -inches high.

ANSWER — Harold Stoudt, Hamburg, wanted to know where to buy stick belt dressing. Thanks to David Simplir, Elkton Md., who writes that he can get belt dressing at McMaster Carr, P.O. Box 440, New Brunswick, NJ. Phone (908) 329-3200. Sad but true, Simplir writes is the fact that a lot of old time supplies or good quality supplies are no longer available at local hardware and supply stores. As a machinist, Simplir said that he considers McMaster the bible of the trade. There isn't much they don't have.

ANSWER — Kenneth Hixon, Warfordsburg, wanted to know where to purchase 3/16 or ⅛ -inch stainless-steel cable. Thanks to Arnold Hershey, McConnellsburg, who said he has some for sale. Call him at (717) 987-3732. Thanks to Greg Maynard of Chester County, for writing that M&E Marine, which as three locations in Philadelphia, has mailorder for the requested cable. Call 1-800-541-6501 to order. David Simplier said that it is also available from McMaster Carr, P.O. Box 440, New Brunswick, N.J. Other sources from readers include Universal Cable, Chain and Sling, 540 Hollywell Ave., Chambersburg, PA (717) 261-0066 and James Walker Co., Baltimore, MD at (410) 486-3950.

ANSWER — Leona Leiby, Kutztown, wanted instructions for making homemade soap in an iron kettle. Thanks to Anna Mary Nolt, New Holland, sending the following recipe, which she has often successfully made.

Homemade Soap

25 pounds lard, tallow, or ham hides
5 pounds caustic soda
3 12-quart buckets of soft water

Heat water to boiling in an iron kettle. Add caustic soda carefully as it will spudder. When dissolved, add fats. Boil 3 hours over low heat. Caution should be taken as it can foam and overflow. Keep cool water close by to cool mixture down if it threatens to overflow. It would burn if it comes in contact with fire.

Add 1 handful of salt and mix well. Let cool well, like overnight. Cut in desired pieces.

ANSWER — David Martin, Schaefferstown, wrote that to control algae in a pond, he purchased some fish called Israeli Algae Eaters, which are a type of carp. That was 10 years ago, and they have multiplied and kept the pond clean. He got them at a hatchery near to Drifting, Pa., but doesn't remember the name or address of the hatchery. No doubt the fish can be purchased through other hatcheries.

ANSWER — Donald Ryman, Woodstock, Va., wanted information on finding parts for a Hoosier cabinet and the address of a company that makes the cabinets. Thanks to Charles Herwegh, West Chester, who recommends Uncle Tom's Hoosier Cabinets and Parts, 5680 W. McNeely St., Ellettsville, IN 47429. Toll-free order line 1-800-892-5695. The company also sells a book "Hoosier Book," which in 1997 had cost $14.95 plus $2 for shipping.

Kemerer Farms Complete Dispersal

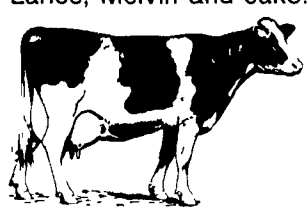
FRIDAY, SEPT. 25, 10:30 AM

Selling 80 head

60 cows 20 springing heifers
60 Holsteins 14 Ayrshires
DHIA RHA 365 20,127 Milk 721 Fat 647 Pro

Located in Westmoreland County, Pa. From Rte. 30 in Latrobe at the Westmoreland County Airport take Rte. 981 south 3 miles to Kemerer Road or from Mt. Pleasant, take Rte. 981 north to Kemerer Road where farm is located.

The Kemerer family has decided to discontinue dairying and are dispersing their complete dairy herd and all their springing heifers. This is a good, young herd that are almost all home raised with good feet, legs and udders. A herd not pushed and AV 61 lbs. of milk out of the tank with fresh cows milking to 95 lbs. with several 2 year olds milking 80 lbs. milk plus. There are 55 two and three year olds, 30 cows and heifers due for August, September, October and November, 20 just recently fresh. Records show Holstein cows to 30,322 878 915 and Ayrshire records to 24,300 875 790. A herd that has been bred AI for over 40 years with Holstein sires including Melwood, Leadman, Belltone, Cubby, Lance, Melvin and Jake. Ayrshire sires include Gemstone, Dividend, Royal Command, Remus, Mozart and Sensation. Almost all Ayrshires are registered.



This is a clean young, hard working herd that knows how to milk. They are milked in tie stalls and used to loose housing This herd certified, accredited and vaccinated with 9 way vaccine; can interstate anywhere.

IF YOU ARE LOOKING FOR MILK THIS FALL, THIS IS ONE HERD YOU'LL WANT TO SEE SELL.

Pregnancy checked • Records and catalogues available day of sale

We deliver peace of mind with every GENESIS™ tractor

NEW HOLLAND

Buying or leasing a GENESIS™ tractor from New Holland is virtually risk-free.

- GUARANTEED trade-in value with no-risk leases
- The best warranty – 3 years, 3,000 hours, no deductible
- The best performance – the best lugging ability, the best fuel economy, the smoothest powershift and more!
- The best dealer service and support

Stop in for a test drive. We deliver peace of mind with every GENESIS™ tractor.

Excellent in the field - and on the farm

New Holland 70- to 90-PTO-hp tractors feature a 16x16 Pulse Command™ transmission with push-button power shifting within each of four speed groups Speeds are evenly spaced 18% apart, with nine speeds in the usual two- to seven-mph working range. Plenty of gear overlap makes range shifting unnecessary most of the time.
The shuttle lets you pull out from a dead stop or change direction without clutching. An optional, electro-hydraulically engaged creeper is also available.

NEW HOLLAND

Shuttle back and forth with ease

The left-hand, column-mounted shuttle control on New Holland 40 to 62 PTO hp tractors with 8x8 and 16x8 transmissions provides convenient shifting of the best, fully-synchronized shuttle in this horsepower class. Shuttling is controlled with the left hand, leaving your right hand free to operate the loader

Great looks. Aggressive power.

New Holland 35 Series tractors really "work big" in the field or on the job.

- Engines have good lugging ability with 1000 useful rpm's between maximum torque and maximum power
- 14 5 gpm hydraulic flow assures fast implement response
- 3-point lift system, activated by touch control, is best-in class
- Electro-hydraulic differential lock provides maximum traction when needed.

Dekalb Earns Its Wings As South American Seed Flies Into The U.S.

DEKALB, Ill.– dozens of jumbo jetliners began landing at Miami International Airport as Dekalb Specific Trait corn hybrids make their way from South America to Midwest destinations.

Dekalb production locations throughout the country are beginning to package and deliver the newly grown corn seed.

Because of growing demand for Dekalb's Specific Trait Product lineup, the company has significantly increased the seed grown in South America this past winter for planting in North America. This winter production provides farmers with the latest in seed technology, including the industry's first Roundup Ready® seed corn as well as Dekalb™ corn hybrids.

Just-in-time deliveries are currently being scheduled throughout the country and being flown in from Argentina and Chile. Dekalb dealers and customers will begin taking deliver of South American-produced seed this week and deliveries will accelerate through mid-April.

"Harvest has progressed at a rapid pace, a result of favorable weather conditions in Argentina and Chile, " said Vernon Benes, Roundup Ready corn marketing manager for Dekalb. "With the excellent production conditions in South American this year, we have increased our estimated supply of many key Bt and Roundup Ready hybrids Dekalb is selling this spring."

Shipments of U.S. -grown seed are well under way and will account for about 80 percent of Dekalb's entire sales. "Based upon laboratory tests, this seed is demonstrating the highest germination and quality test results we have seen in years," said Kent Martin, director of supply management for Dekalb.

Semex Alliance Acquires Pa. Bull

MADISON, Wis. – The Semex Alliance, headquartered in Guelph, Ontario, recently purchased a young bull from Pennsylvania breeders — Fantasyland Holsteins of Robesonia.

Fantasyland Macro is an Etazon Celsius son from Fantasyland Aero Melanie. Melanie is a 92 point Aerostar daughter that completed a 3-year-old record of 41,237 pounds of milk and 1316 pounds of protein. The next dam is Ex daughter of Walkway Chief Mark, also with outstanding production numbers of 30,235 of milk and 966 of protein. The third dam is 92 point Bell daughter that made more than 39,000 pounds of milk.

Blower Fills 100-Foot Silos

NEW HOLLAND (Lancaster Co.) — The new Model F62B New Holland low-vibration forage blower center-fills silos more than 100 feet tall.

Featuring a 60-inch diameter fan with 37-inch hopper and 12-inch feed auger, the new blower moves material at rates of 110 tons per hour for haylage and 180 tons per hour in corn silage to keep pace with large-capacity forage harvesters.

The 60-inch fan paddles have an 8,460 FPM tip speed. The blower pipe outlet assembly is hinged to provide easy access for paddle clearance inspection and adjustment. Adjustable transport wheels simplify location and set up at the silo.

Study Shows Strength Of Brand

GREENVILLE, S.C. — More than a decade after production of BFGoodrich® brand tires for the farm and ranch market ceased, the BFGoodrich brand continues to receive strong recognition for historical quality performance, according to a telephone survey of more than 1,000 Class 1A grain farmers completed prior to the relaunch of the brand.

When asked which brands they could name unaided, 25 percent listed the BFGoodrich® brand. Virtually all said they were aware of the brand, with more than half saying they were familiar enough with the BFGoodrich brand to rate its quality.

Of those who rated quality based on their statement of familiarity with the brand, approximately half gave the BFGoodrich brand a quality rating of eight or higher on a 10-point scale. Those who were not well enough acquainted with the brand were asked to provide a quality rating based on name recognition and any information they had previously heard. Nearly a third of those farmers gave the BFGoodrich brand a rank of 8 to 10.

Farmers also said they are "very likely" to consider buying BFGoodrich® brand tires based on comparisons with other brands which are priced competitively.

Matthias Telemarketing Management based in Omaha, Neb., conducted the survey for Michelin North America Inc.

White Oak Mills Names Top Producers

ELIZABETHTOWN (Lancaster Co.) — In an effort to promote efficient pork production by its grow-finish operations, White Oak Mills Inc. is pleased to announce the recipients of its "White Oak Mills Outstanding Producer Awards."

Pennsylvania contract producers Guy Anderson of Needmore and LaMar Troup of Beaver Springs recently were recognized and honored by White Oak Mills for their efficient pork production.

White Oak Mills swine managers judged the grow-finish producers on their 1997 farm performance. Performance categories included production — such as average daily gain, feed conversion, culls, and mortality — as well as overall farm management.

In addition, White Oak Mills commended Troup and Anderson for their attention to detail and effective communications with the company.

Both award recipients are Pork Quality Assurance (PQA) Level III certified and follow strict nutrient management plans as is expected of all White Oak contract producers. Troup also is Environmental Quality Assurance (EQA) certified.

Anderson and Troup were two of 44 growers evaluated for the award.

Troup produces 3,000 hogs per turn for the company on his 297-acre Snyder County farm. Anderson owns and operates a 1,300-head finishing facility in Fulton County which he contracts to White Oak Mills.

When asked what he appreciates most about pork production, Troup said, "I find the challenges of farming very rewarding. I like working with animals and being my own boss."

Mary Lee and LaMar Troup display their White Oak Mills Outstanding Producer Award.

White Oak Mills Inc. recently recognized M. Normalee and Guy Anderson for the efficient pork production.

To best manage his pork production operation, Troup said he completes thorough facility walk-throughs. He generates a weekly computer spreadsheet report which depicts production status by room. Then he analyzes the records for potential problem areas.

"White Oak Mills services my farm regularly and makes sure I don't overlook anything," said Troup. "They help with trouble-shooting and overall animal husbandry. We are always sharing our observations and ideas with one another, especially when it comes to herd health."

Troup is an active member of the Central Susquehanna Pork Producers, West Snyder Young Farmer's Association, Pennsylvania Farm Bureau, and FFA Alumni Association. In addition, he serves on two agricultural boards: the Pennsylvania Pork Producers' Council Board and the Crop Management Services Board. He's been a Pennsylvania pork producer since February 1993.

Anderson (who helps run a family sawmill operation) has been involved in pork production for 11 years. Having grown up on a farm, Anderson said, "Once farming is in your blood, it's hard to get it out of your system. I enjoy the work."

Receiving assistance with the loading/unloading of pigs from his two sons, son-in-law and grandsons, Anderson also relies on White Oak Mills for overall service support and regular farm calls.

In recognition for top White Oak pork production, Anderson and Troup each received a White Oak Mills Outstanding Producer Award certificate and a $350 gift certificate to a local sporting goods store.

New Variable Size Balers Available From Claas

WARSAW, Ind. — Claas of America offers the new Variant 180 variable chamber round baler to complement its range of Rollant fixed-size chamber balers.

The Variant produces bales of varying sizes and densities to provide greater flexibility to those switching between producing small silage and hay bales to large straw and hay bales. The bales can be varied infinitely between 35-inch and 72-inch diameter. Bale width is 48 inches.

The baler features a rotor to provide a positive crop feed from the 82-inch wide pickup. The rotor turns the bale immediately after the material enters the chamber to provide a faster start to each bale plus regulates and smooths crop flow to produce a well-shaped bale.

A Roto Cut™ option featuring 14 spring-loaded knives in the throat feeds crop through by the rotor slicing the material. Theoretical chop length is 2¼ inches. The knives can be disengaged by operating a switch on the cab-mounted control box.

The bale chamber is made up of five high-tensile, wear-resistant belts, which cover 94 percent of the bale and assure constant rotation. A pressure gauge mounted on the baler's front indicates the bale density created by the two hydraulic cylinders.

Total bale density can be varied for different types of crops and conditions while a gas accumulator independently controls bale center's density to give the bale breathing space through its core if required.

Both Variant models are available with either Rollatex net wrapping or twine typing or both. Three rolls of net or 12 spools of twine can be carried on the baler.

The heavy-duty drives are designed for even the most difficult conditions. An additional belt drive ensures constant rotation when heavy silage is being baled. Automatic chain lubrication, bale discharge ramp, hydraulic pickup lift and dual-gauge wheel are standard equipment.

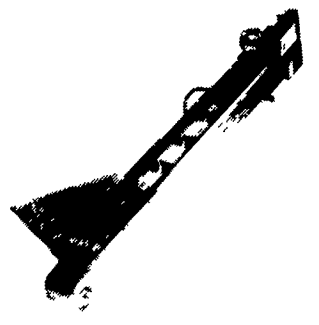
J-Star Offers Conveyor Lineup

FORT ATKINSON, Wis. — J-Star Industries has introduced a new line of single chain utility conveyors.

The J-Star line incorporates the best features of the company's previous Jamesway®, Van Dale® and Starline® MODELS AND IS PART OF J-Star's overall marketing strategy to offer farmers the convenience and quality of an all-in-one farmstead equipment source.

Available in 9-inch and 11-inch models, J-Star single chain conveyors have factory preassembled drives for easy installation. Both models also feature simple combination belt and chain reduction drives plus enclosed bottom decks for safe and clean chain return. Each conveyor is economical and efficient and features a "safety/service" shutoff switch conveniently located on the conveyor at the drive.

The 9-inch single chain conveyor is designed to handle short to medium distance feeding of up to 50 feet in length. This model features a proven number 62 steel detachable conveyor chain with metal-backed rubber flights to efficiently move the feed a fast 144 feet per minute. J-Star's 11-inch-drive single chain conveyor has a rugged 667H pintle chain and 2½ -inch x 10¾ -inch wide rubber flights to move feed 130 feet per minute.



Available in 9-inch and 11-inch models, J-Star single chain conveyors have factory preassembled drives for easy installation.

Preservation Board Approves Farmland

HARRISBURG (Dauphin Co.) — Agriculture Secretary Samuel E. Hayes Jr. announced that the Agricultural Land Preservation Board has approved easement purchases for 23 farms across the commonwealth, including the first farm approved in Bedford County.

The addition of these easements demonstrates Gov. Ridge's commitment to the future of Pennsylvania agriculture," said Hayes, who chairs the board.

Created in 1989, the Pennsylvania Agricultural Land Preservation Board is responsible for the oversight of the state Farmland Preservation Program. The program allows the state and counties to purchase development rights, referred to as easements, to guarantee that farms will remain as agricultural land.

Including four county-owned easements accepted today, the Farmland Preservation Program has protected 977 farms in 41 counties encompassing 123,423 acres.

Following is a list of the 23 properties, including owner, township, acreage and purchase cost:

Retailers To Work With Growers On Hypoxia

ST. LOUIS, Mo. – Retailers have a great opportunity to help educate their customers about hypoxia and other nutrient management issues.

That is the conclusion or the Agricultural Retailers Association's hypoxia task force, which met for the first time on March 19 to determine the role retailers will play in resolving hypoxia and other nutrient issues

Hypoxia is a problem in the Gulf of Mexico It is due in part to an excess of nitrogen and phosphorus. Those nutrients feed sea algae. Too much of this algae can cause reduced sunlight penetration, loss of aquatic life, and a decrease of oxygen in the water Some scientists believe the excess nutrients are carried to the Gulf from the Midwest by the Mississippi

"Hypoxia is a big issue. It's really about nutrient management," said Dr. Jerry Hatfield, director of the National Soil Tilth Lab, USDA-ARS, in Ames, Iowa.

Hatfield gave the group a scientific look at nutrient management and shared research that helps define the problem.

"We're dealing with a complex ecosystem with a lot of checks and balances," said Hatfield. There are tile-drained soils with high amounts of natural organic matter producing nitrates, which are very mobile in water. The issue is complicated by its direct correlation to precipitation, which produces a great variation among the years, he said.

"Our job is to determine how these weave together into a story that explains how the soil, nutrients, rivers, wetlands and precipitation all fit together," Hatfield said

"Retailers play an important role in nutrient management," said Paul Kindinger, ARA CEO and president. "They have the most contact with farmers. To get information across to growers, we will work with retailers because farmers will continue to buy goods and search for information from their retailers. The educational process should start with the retail community."

Larry Thomsen, executive vice president of agronomy for West Central Co-Op, agrees that retailers are critical in getting information to growers. "Knowledge transfer is an important aspect of our role in the industry," said Thomsen. "The goal now is to help keep producers in business, not just sell product."

"The 21st century farm supply business will be built on relationships," Thomsen said. "Working with customers on issues such as nutrient management will lead us into the next century."

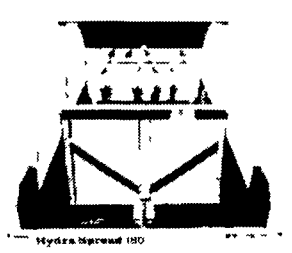
HYDRA-SPREAD

Hagedorn

M.M. Weaver & Sons, Inc.
Leola, PA 17540
(717) 656-2321

The simple and proven design of Hydra-Spread uses reliable hydraulic power to push the load. This feature eliminates troublesome apron chains, gearbox, shafts, and sprockets and replaces them with a simple, dependable, hydraulic cylinder assembly. Sides and floor of the Hydra Spread are made from super-slippery, corrosion-proof, high density polyethylene. The rugged efficient beater design delivers a fine uniform spread pattern. The all-welded unit frame features heavy structural sections for long life.



Hydra-Spread unloads smoothly and evenly with a simple, dependable, hydraulic push gate. Unloading speed is controlled by a precision metering valve.

Floor and sides are solid, corrosion proof poly-boards containing over 90% recycled material. Stronger than new and we're helping the environment.

Simple, dependable power train. Every shaft connection from the tractor to the top beater is splined.

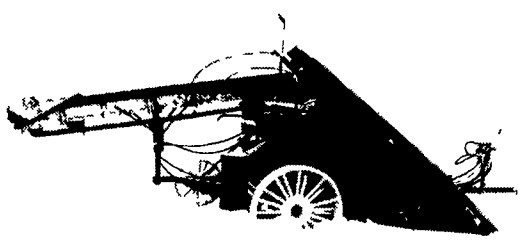
I & J mfg. Corn Binder
Smoother operation results in uniform solid bundles



Better ejection of bundles results in the elimination of an assistant on the loader under most conditions

- Powerful 13 HP Honda engine along a with nine gallon per minute hydraulic system operates the unit with convenient controls to raise and lower the head
- The aluminum loader features a conveyor belt not chains to carry bundles to the wagon

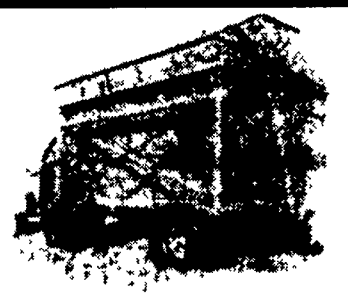
Binkley & Hurst Bros. Inc. Is Ready To Deliver The Highest Quality Dump Wagon On The Market Today!

HERE'S THE STRAIGHT SCOOP ABOUT RICHARDTON HIGH DUMP WAGONS



Seems like some folks are always trying to catch up And sometimes they ll do just about anything to get ahead But you know that for over 35 years Richardton high dump wagons have been the best in the business and in the field So get the best - Hitch up a Richardton Wagon today

What the competition says about Richardton Wagons	The truth about Richardton High Dump Wagons
Cylinders and cables	Our exclusive patented lock cylinders ensure that the box won t tip over Our cable system allows you to top off a truck load with a partial dump You re not restricted to a full dump cycle You save time because there are no master/slave cylinders to purge
Over two minute cycle time	ALL cycle times depend on your tractor s hydraulic system! We designed our wagon to cycle in less than one minute
12 GA. steel on entire hopper	Our 12GA steel construction is absolutely the most cost effective and strongest on the market It s that way today and it s been that way for over 35 years
Internal braces welded to flat steel	We ll say it again - Richardton wagon components are the strongest and best built on the market!
300# rated standard black pipe fittings	Flared hydraulic steel tubing with 5 000 PSI rated fittings are standard on Richardton wagons
1/4" wall material	Our 1/4 walls withstand decades of hard use Just so you know, we use 5/16 or 3/8 where necessary
3 1/2" x 3 1/2" slide tubes, steel on steel	Others copy our original heavy duty nylon no grease slide system There is NO metal on metal at any time!

RICHARDTON
Multi-Purpose Dump Wagons

- Honest harvest savings
- Tough, durable wagons
- A fair price
- The industry leader others imitate

PULL-TYPE Crop Processing Forage Harvester

Chop and process corn silage with one pass through the field. Gehl's High-speed grooved rolls crack kernels, break up the cob and smash the stalk. The results: 10 to 20 percent higher digestibility for significant increases in milk production.

- Huge harvesting capacity
- Eight-knife cutting cylinder
- Swing-away auger
- Removable roll assembly
- Adjustable processing roll gap

CENTER-LINE DESIGN

Saves More Leaves Which Means More Milk In The Tank

The benefits of the Case International center-line rectangular baler for a smaller operation are many Narrow transport width Easy in-field maneuverability Gentle handling of hay Uniform bale shape And, a budget-minded price

You'll appreciate it with the first bale you make A wide, low-profile pickup and center-line feeding mean more leaves end up in the bale, not on the ground

And, if that's not enough, there are a number of options available A hydraulic pickup lift, flotation tires, hydraulic density control, wagon hitch and a choice of bale chutes or hydraulic bale thrower with electric controls

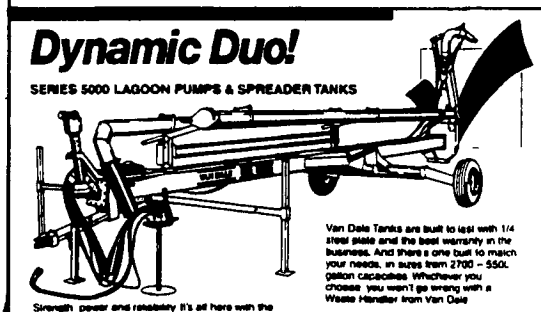
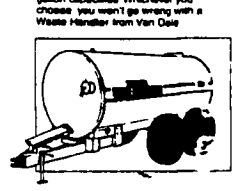
RENT US For Your Lagoon Cleaning

Dynamic Duo!
SERIES 5000 LAGOON PUMPS & SPREADER TANKS



Van Dale Tanks are built to last with 1/4 steel plate and the best warranty in the business. And there's one built to match your needs, in sizes from 2700 – 550L gallon capacities. Whichever you choose, you won't go wrong with a Waste Handler from Van Dale.

Strength, power and reliability. It's all here with the new Series 5000 Lagoon Pumps. These pumps have the perfect combination of agitation volume and pressure needed to break up hard surface crust or bottom manure solids with speed and power. And with up to 5000 G.P.M. agitation capacity, it can blast a stream of manure 100' or more in any direction to create an easy pumping and spreading slurry. The new Series 5000 trailer mounted or 3-point hitch, by far the fastest and gassest to operate pumps on the market.



THE VAN DALE ADVANTAGE

CHECK OUT THESE FEATURES
- Removable Guarding Assembly
- Hydraulic Control from the Tractor Seat
- Aggressive, 20" High Pressure Impeller
- Adjustable Nozzle

NOW IS THE TIME TO UP

HE SPENT $16,000 FOR A "NEW" COMBINE FROM HOOBER

ADVANCED MACHINERY SERVICE

"Because of Hoober's service, my used combine runs as good as new."

Dick Seidel, Kutztown

A couple of years ago, Dick Seidel found himself in need of a combine. A John Deere customer, Dick figured he would spend $35-$40,000 and get a Deere 6620, but after looking around he discovered a local dealer with a used Case IH Axial-Flow combine for just over $16,000. Dick knew the combine needed work, so after harvest he decided to take his used Axial-Flow to the combine specialists at Hoober, Inc. for Uptime Service. Dick went over every inch of the machine with a Hoober specialist and together they discovered the combine needed significant service and repair.

Dick spent $16,000 with Hoober to get the combine fixed, but says it was money well spent. " It absolutely was worth it," says Dick. "Because of Hoober, that combine runs like new. It's a completely different machine. In fact, the last two years, it went through both harvests without a single breakdown. None. No lost time at all. You can't ask for more."

As for how the Hoober-serviced Axial-Flow stacks up against John Deere, Dick says the Axial-Flow wins hands down. "It's a lot simpler," says Dick, "and I get a cleaner grain sample even though it's an older machine. It just keeps going. It's amazing."

GEHL®

New! PULL-TYPE Crop Processing Forage Harvester

Chop and process corn silage with one pass through the field. Gehl's high-speed grooved rolls crack kernels, break up the cob and smash the stalk. The results: 10 to 20 percent higher digestibility for significant increases in milk production.

- Huge harvesting capacity - utilizes up to 300 tractor horsepower.
- Eight-knife cutting cylinder delivers length of cut up to 1 inch.
- Swing-away auger allows access to cylinder knives, processing rolls.
- Roll assembly is easily removable for haylage operations.
- Processing roll gap adjusts for varying crop conditions.

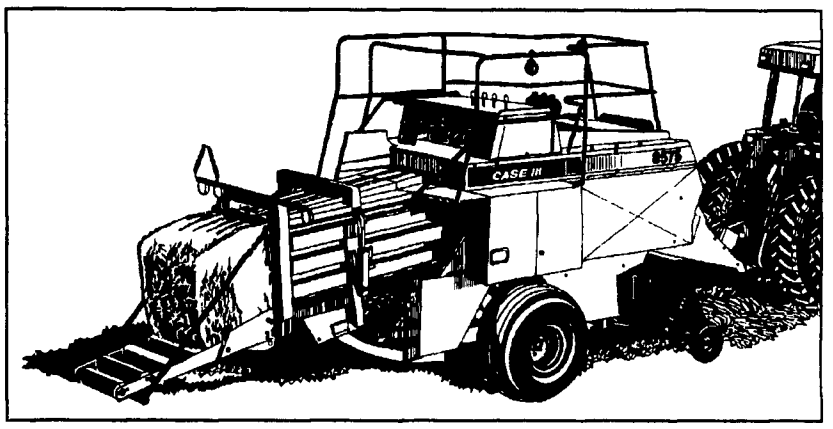
Top Productivity – Wet or Dry



Case IH 8575 Mid-Size Center-Line Baler

Heavy-duty construction for high capacity baling.

- Consistent bale weight and density regardless of varying moisture conditions
- Slow-speed, long-stroke plunger for smoother operation
- Extra wide pick-up for increased capacity with less leaf loss
- Maximize transport payload with the 31 5" x 34.4" bale size

Built to provide the dependability you require and expect

- Standard double-tie knotters for less twine breakage and improved tying performance over single-knotter systems
- Deluxe electronic monitors to track baling functions
- Optional bale ejector and roller chute for easy removal of high-moisture silage bales
- Add the 8576 accumulator for even greater productivity

And, you get more than a high-production baler You can count on us for genuine, value-priced parts, professional and reliable service support, and flexible financing

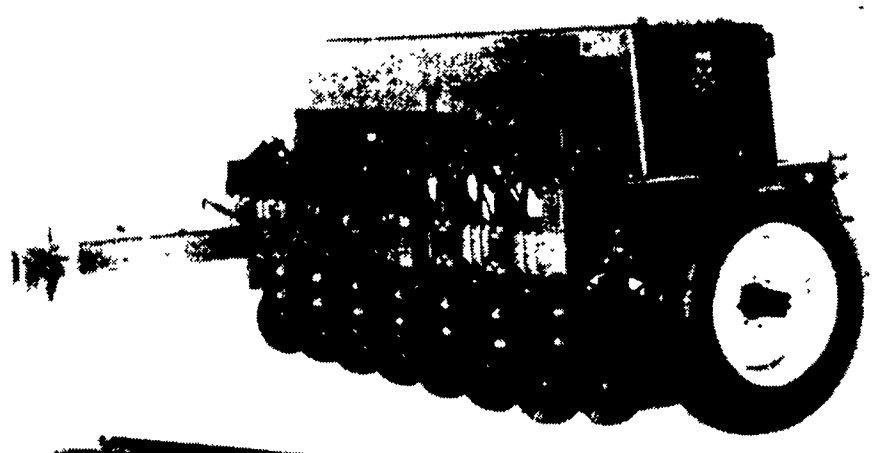
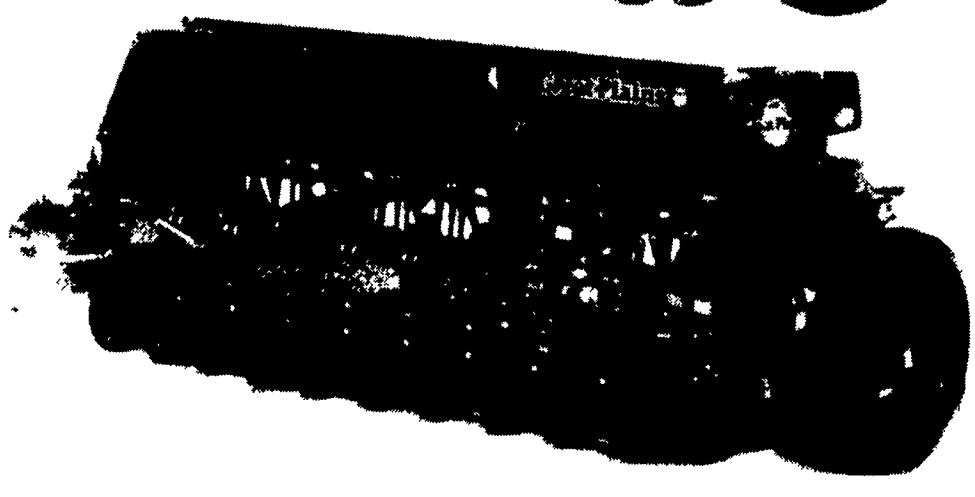
NO-TILL DRILLS

- Utilizes proven coulter/opener no-till system.
- Compact, well-balanced design transports easily.
- Heavy-duty coulters cut through tough ground and heavy residue.
- Dry fertilizer, small seeds, and and fluffy seed box options.
- Lock-out hubs disengage drives for transport.

The Most Comprehensive Set of Time-Proven No-Till Drill Features In The Business





The proven Great Plains no-till system utilizes a coulter to prepare a mini-conventional seedbed for the openers to place the seed ... at the precise depth selected.

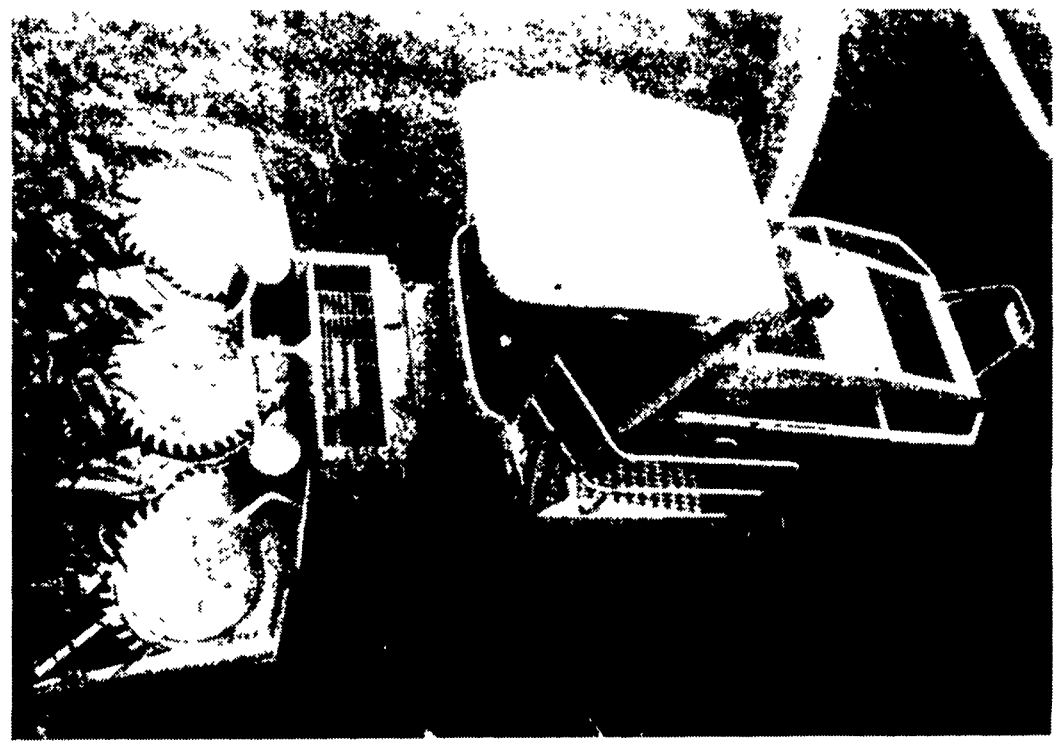
Claas of America offers the RU 450 row independent converging corn head for its self-propelled forage harvesters The RU 450 enables corn to be harvested no matter the row spacing or direction harvested and features a working width of 14'9"

The head features three rotating drums which cut and deliver the crop Double transport discs on each drum capture the corn plants for crop delivery The mowing disc, located under the transport discs, cuts the crop and then delivers it to the feed augers The three-symmetrical rotors assure even crop flow to the feed rollers.

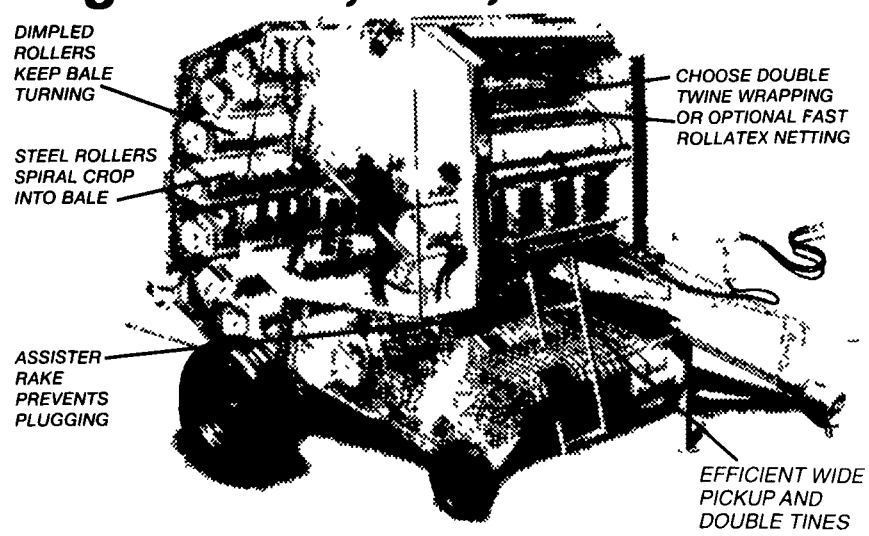
The chainless rotor drive system is made up of universal drive shafts and oil bath gearboxes Drives are protected by low maintenance overload clutches. With fewer moving parts than a conventional corn head, the RU 450 requires less maintenance resulting in higher output

Transport of the head is done by activating a hydraulic valve from the cab which folds the outer rotors into a vertical position



Owners say:

"Tight bales, fast, no trouble"



DIMPLED ROLLERS KEEP BALE TURNING
STEEL ROLLERS SPIRAL CROP INTO BALE
ASSISTER RAKE PREVENTS PLUGGING
CHOOSE DOUBLE TWINE WRAPPING OR OPTIONAL FAST ROLLATEX NETTING
EFFICIENT WIDE PICKUP AND DOUBLE TINES

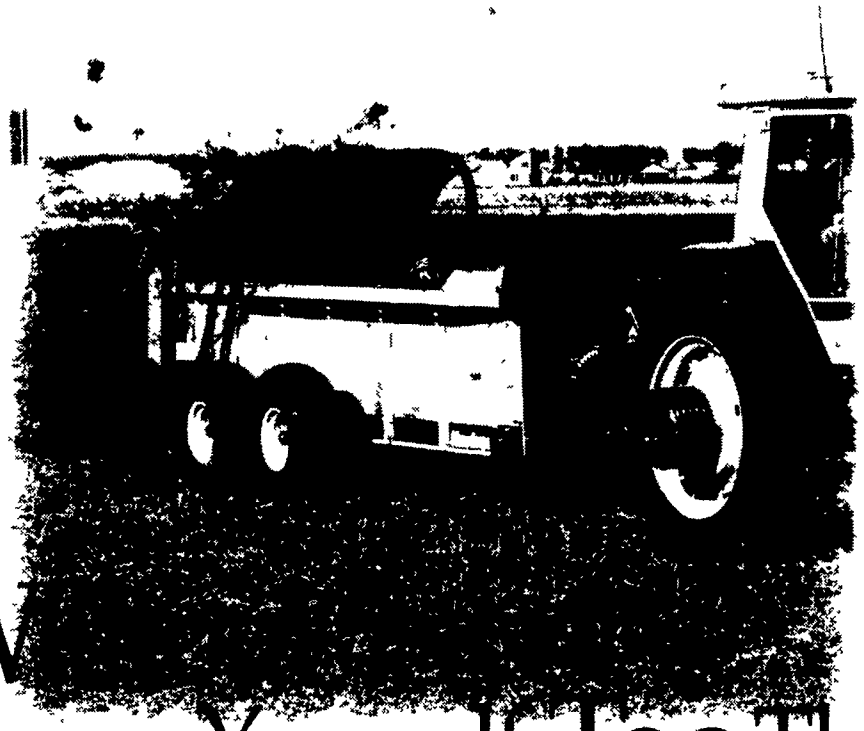
Match A Spreader To Your Needs



W Yourself Too Thin

Get Unmatched Flexibility At A Great Price.

With eight sizes to choose from and a wide variety of options, it's easy to see how the New Idea® 3700 Series Spreaders meet the needs of any operation. Their aggressive, main beater paddles are strategically spaced and angled to shred a wide range of material while giving you a consistent spread pattern.

Culvert-grade galvanizing over one-piece, copper-bearing steel sides provide a barrier against rust and corrosion. And for hauling long distances, the truck-mount option proves to be the safest, most economical way to transport large amounts of material.

To see how simple it is to customize your spreading operation, contact your AGCO® New Idea dealer today. You'll be surprised how much time and money you'll save with the New Idea 3700 Series Spreaders.

Outstanding performance in the field

You get a fine, uniform chop with the Model 790 forage harvester from New Holland. The 12-knife cutterhead features hardened alloy knives with tungsten edges to keep you chopping at peak productivity, season after season. And routine maintenance is hassle-free!

Nobody builds forage harvesters better than New Holland. Stop in and see why they're outstanding in the field.

TOUGHER THAN THE REST

The New Holland Model Lx565 Super Boom™ skid-steer loader is tougher, more durable and more reliable than ever.

The "Lx565" offers a 40 horsepower diesel engine with an SAE load rating of a powerful 1,500 pounds.

The Pick Up 'n Go™ universal attachment system makes it compatible with New Holland and competitive attachments. The strong boom design and massive loader pins make it more reliable.

See what makes the Super Boom so tough.

THE BEST TIRES IN THE WORLD HAVE GOODYEAR WRITTEN ALL OVER THEM

Century Farmers Will Farm With Their Minds

WILMINGTON, Del. — The farmers of the next century will work as much, or more, with their heads as with their hands, according to the 1998 class of DuPont New Century Farmers.

These young farmers believe the skills that will be critical to their success are people management, technology use, marketing, financial astuteness and business sense, as well as the ability to be flexible and adaptable.

"The main thing will be the ability to adapt," said Philip Eby. "The agricultural industry is ever-changing. We will need to change our ways in order to keep up with demands."

The 1998 class is the second class of DuPont New Century Farmers, a program initiated in 1996 in cooperation with the National FFA Organization. The program is designed to help young people, who are committed to pursuing farming as a career, learn and grow into successful farmers in the 21st century.

Philip Eby is one of 38 young farmers who were selected from a pool of competitive applications filled out by young farmers (18-22 years of age) from coast to coast.

The selected applicants participate in an intensive four-day seminar to learn from each other and a host of industry experts during a series of workshops and sessions on issues and topics ranging from the global marketplace to farm financing to creating a vision to family businesses. In addition to classroom learning, students are exposed to the latest developments in agricultural technology, field tours, sessions on personal and professional development, and team-building and self-esteem exercises.

The power-packed program is designed to provide participants with valuable learning that they can take home and apply to their operations and studies, as well as resources and friendships that they can draw upon throughout their careers.

The New Century Farmers also have the opportunity to visit the operation of a successful grower, talk with and learn from him or her about the farming business, and begin to develop key relationships with today's leaders in agriculture.

"The future of the agriculture industry is dependent on young farmers who are motivated, educated and open to possibilities," according to Dale Darling, ag relations manager, DuPont Agricultural Enterprise. "The DuPont New Century Farmers program is about providing new information, resources and mind-stretching opportunities to help these top-notch young farmers be successful in building their future enterprises."

Gap, Pennsylvania is home to Phil Eby, where his family has a 60,000-poultry laying operation and grows corn, alfalfa, wheat and soybeans. Phil serves as a Pennsylvania State FFA officer and will attend Penn State in the fall as a freshman majoring in agronomy.

Philip Eby, 1998 DuPont New Century Farmer, is congratulated by James Borel, president, crop protection products and VP/GM, DuPont.

Sussex Farmer Receives County Service Award

NEWARK, Del. — Alton L. Rogers of Georgetown, Del., received the 1998 Sussex County Outstanding Service to Agriculture Award. The presentation was made Aug. 12 at the Research and Education Center (REC) in Georgetown, following a picnic at the University of Delaware's Farm and Home Field.

Rogers' love of agriculture began long before 1965, the year he left carpentry to become a full-time grain farmer. Born and raised in Georgetown, he attended Georgetown High School before joining his father, Norman, in the family construction business; he even worked on some of the offices and laboratories for the REC, then known as the Substation.

A World War II veteran, Rogers served in the Army, stationed at Okinawa. He is married to the former Doris Clendaniel.

Rogers has served the agricultural community as a stockholder and past director of the Laurel Grain Company as well as stockholder and past director for Delaware Farm Credit. He is past chairperson and county committee member (three terms) for the Sussex County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee — now known as Farm Service Agency. In addition, he has served as manager of the New Ditch Company for the Division of Soil and Water.

A member of Grace United Methodist Church, Rogers also belongs to the Veterans of Foreign Wars, American Legion Post No. 8 and Union Lodge.

Rogers' service to agriculture through the University of Delaware's College of Agriculture and Natural Resources has been exemplary. He has supported college research and cooperative extension efforts by cooperating in field crop trials, and has served three terms as president of the Sussex County Extension Advisory Board, a volunteer organization that provides input on the college's extension efforts.

WARNING, ALL SILO OWNERS

Check your silo now for rotten staves. If you have been using your silo for 10 to 15 years for either corn silage or haylage, it is time to SHOTCRETE

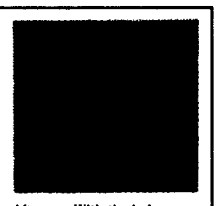
RESURFACES INTERIORS:
- Coats the silo's interior
- Protects feed in storage
- Durable, tough, acid-resistant
- Increase useful life
- Economical

Before The silo s interior with plaster damaged and stave exposed

After The surface is reconditioned and a new thick tough surface will protect stored feed

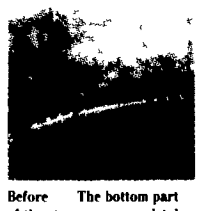
REPAIRS HOLES
- Repairs even large holes
- Up to twice the strength of the original stave
- Rapid application
- Durable surface

Before A hole is worn completely through the silo wall



After With the hole repaired by ShotCrete and a new surface applied, the silo is ready for years of use

EXTENDS USEFUL LIFE:
- Support for old foundations
- Special repairs can be made quickly and economically
- Little or no forming needed
- Stronger than the original



Before The bottom part of the stave s are completely worn away

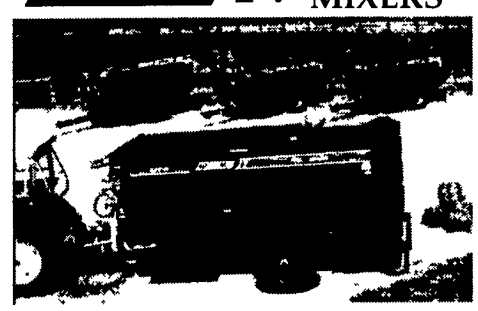
ROTO-MIX IV FEED MIXERS



With ROTO-MIX IV you reduce fines, minimize shrinkage, and eliminate dead spots. The gentle tumbling action mixes fragile flaked and high-moisture ingredients without grinding, resulting in a fluffier, more nutritional ration.

The ROTO-MIX end-to-end... side-to-side mixing system provides the most thorough TMR available, ensuring that your cattle will consume a balanced ration of nutrients in every pound of feed they eat.

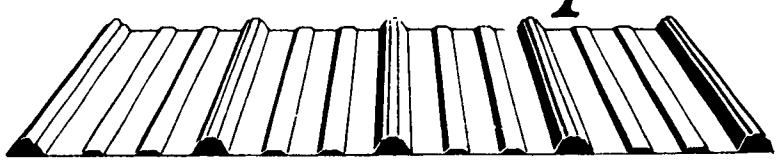
Rural Economy



Cost-efficient Centurydrain® roofing and siding is on some of the best looking buildings in the country.

Build with Centurydrain roofing and siding and you've built a money-wise structure. Full-hard, high tensile galvanized steel, and an exclusive drain channel for a dry interior give you a building that'll handle years of hard duty and hard weather. Good looking, too. Crisp lines and plenty of bright, long-lasting colors make Wheeling Centurydrain as handsome as it is economical.

MAXIMUM WEED CONTROL

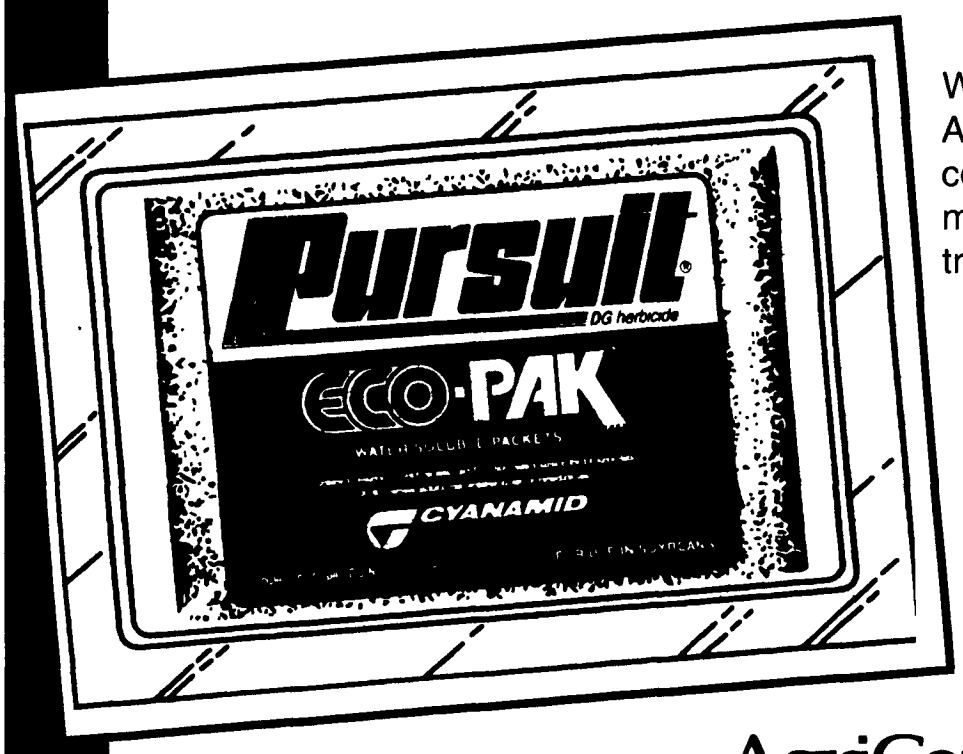
Pursuit® DG herbicide Herbicide

On Your Alfalfa Now



Winter annual weeds are already starting to germinate. Apply Pursuit after your last cutting this fall for the control of chickweed, sheppards purse, penncress, mustard, london and yellow rocket, plus many other troublesome weeds.

Fall seedings - Apply after the alfalfa reaches the second trifoliate leaf stage and while weeds are 1-3 inches in size.

Established Alfalfa - Apply after cutting before alfalfa regrowth and weeds reach 3 inches.

Application rates - Pursuit DG - 1.08 to 2.16 oz/acre plus Surfactant or Crop oil Concentrate and Nitrogen solution - 1-2 qt/acre
